INDIA GETS U.S. PLEDGE

Vicious Storm In Europe Now Subsiding

109 Dead, Shattered Ships Left in Wake Of 5-Day Blow

LONDON (AP)—Europe's worst storm in 23 years was blowing itself out today, leaving shattered ships and 109 dead in its wake.

But coastguardsmen, weary after a five-day battle, warned the tempest might still have a deadly sting in its tail.

A little Dutch motor freighter sank in a collision in the Elbe estuary, some seamen remained in trouble and blinding blizzards blanketed parts of Scandinavia.

The toll in lives and shipping was the heaviest since the great storm of February 1936, in which more than 200 died.

The 44-ton Dutch freighter Flamingo went down after a collision with the 3,128-ton German freighter Brunswick. All members of the Dutch crew were rescued.

In all, a half dozen vessels have gone down.

Four others flashed distress calls today.

A flooded engineroom forced abandoment of the British trawler Janet Helen in the North Sea. Its crew was taken off by another British fishing vessel.

In the Baltic the Finnish Vessel Borneo, 348 tons, reported it was drifting with a 25-degree list. It called urgently for a tug.

The Danish fishing cutter Stornoway, wallowing in North Sea swells with a broken rudder, called for assistance. Then its radio went dead.

Three other Danish fishing boats with a total of at least 12 men aboard also were missing, but officials said possibly they had lost their radio antennas and could not report in. They were the Nilan, 50 tons; Jytte, 47 tons, and Lyngvig, 46 tons. Two Danish salvage vessels and planes of the Danish and British air forces were looking for them.

In the Baltic, rescue ships put out to aid the crippled Swedish motorship Birgitta. That 850-ton craft, with nine men aboard, had engine and propeller trouble, but reported it was in no immediate danger.

Snowy gales whipped across Sweden for the sixth straight day.

The air-sea hunt for crewmen of the Norwegian freighter Elfrida and the German ship Merkur was abandoned when darkness closed in Wednesday night. All 20 men aboard the Elfrida and the seven who manned the Merkur were assumed lost.

The 1,719-ton Norweigian vessel turned turtle off the south coast of Norway Wednesday. The Merkur, 995 tons, was found wallowing and abandoned in the same general area by the British trawler Benella.

The German crew apparently had been washed overboard.

Blue Laws Snag Euclid Merchants

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio's new Sunday closing law brought merchants in suburban Euclid and Cleveland Heights and in nearby Lorain into courts Wednesday.

A Euclid municipal judge convicted the Giant Tiger of selling a lawn mower last Sept. 6, and its defense was that a lawn mower is an "item of necessity" under the law and also that the store has a drug department which is entitled to do Sunday business.

In Cleveland Heights three delicatessen-bakeries pleaded guilty and were fined $25 and costs—the same penalty assessed against the Giant Tiger.

Interim Agreement Asked Of Industry by Steel Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Steelworkers Union asked the industry today to make strike settlement terms retroactive and to pay before Christmas a cost of living wage increase expected Jan. 1.

An interim agreement to that effect now "would contribute to the collective bargaining climate of the final settlement," President David J. McDonald said in a letter to heads of the various companies.

He made the letter public as union and company negotiators were summoned to another joint afternoon meeting with federal mediators.

There was no immediate comment from industry sources.

McDonald asked that whatever settlement terms are agreed to be made retroactive to Nov. 7, when a Taft-Hartley law injunction sent the men back to work after a 116-day strike.

Contending the men have helped the industry return to quick production, he said "we trust that the industry does not wish to reap the sole benefit of this period of enforced production."

The contract which expired last June 30 provided for cost of living adjustments as of each July 1 and Jan. 1 and McDonald said that under the court order, terms of that contract remain in effect.

The January adjustment would be based on the November living cost figures due about Dec. 21, McDonald said. A wage increase of several cents an hour may be indicated. The industry has not indicated whether it considers that part of the contract still in effect.

The industry meantime turned down a suggestion by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell that outsiders be invited to recommend a solution in the dispute.

The secretary had proposed Monday that the strike issues be put up to a fact-finding board or to the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service for a suggested solution, or to binding arbitration of points on which there was no agreement.

The union agreed to either method of outsider recommendations, but opposed arbitration.

R. Conrad Cooper, head of the steel negotiators, said third party intervention in past steel disputes always has produced "a highly inflationary result" and the industry is unwilling to have it happen again.

Steel-labor settlements in recent years have been followed by steel price increases.

Stoutsville Files Notice Of Appeal

Citizens' Group Attorney Goes To Supreme Court

The Stoutsville Citizens' Committee favoring merging with the Logan Elm School District yesterday filed a notice of appeal in the Ohio Supreme Court. The notice contests a previous Fifth District Court of Appeals decision.

The Appeals Court decision dismissed an alternative writ of mandamus request asking it to order the Fairfield County Board of Education to transfer the Clearcreek Local School District to Logan Elm.

The appeal notice was filed in both the Fairfield County Clerk of Courts' office, Lancaster, and the Ohio Supreme Court Clerks' office, by Joseph Asher, Columbus attorney representing the Citizens' Committee.

Asher has 40 days to file his written appeal brief. Another period then will be allowed for the Fairfield Board's law firm of Knepper, White, Richards, Miller and Roberts, Columbus, to file a reply brief.

* * *

INFORMED sources feel this is the only way left open to the Citizens' Committee to effect the Logan Elm transfer. The Fairfield Board recently consolidated Clearcreek with the Amanda Local School District, as allowed by a recent state statute.

The dispute arose when a group of more than 500 Clearcreek citizens presented a petition to the Fairfield school board requesting the issue of transfer to Logan Elm be placed on the ballot.

The board complied and certified the petition to the Fairfield election board which in turn placed the transfer issue on the ballot.

By a vote of 339 to 226 more than the required 55 per cent, voters approved the transfer.

The Fairfield Board of Education then refused to transfer the territory after it was accepted by both the Pickaway County and Logan Elm Boards of Education.

The Fairfield Board disapproved the election saying the election was not duly and legally constituded.

* * *

IT REFERRED to what it termed "false and misleading representation of the issue on the ballot", which stated that the transfer was subject to the acceptance by the Clearcreek school board, which voted 3-2 against the move.

Asher filed a writ of mandamus with the Appeals Court demanding the transfer be made.

The Appeals Court decision maintained the election was wholly misleading, eroneous and deceptive. It said a school district of one county cannot be transferred to a school district within another county.

It said that the transfer petition was not properly handled and that since a tax increase would be encountered by Clearcreek residents, it should have so stated on the ballot, which was not done.

A source close to the scene said today that many Stoutsville residents are "sore" at the Fairfield Board for its sudden consolidation of the Clearcreek and Amanda school districts.

They say no prior announcement of the act was made, affording them a chance to discuss or protest the move with the Board.

Mike Is Left Out From Family 'Fun'

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Ten-year-old Michael Sopher is unhappy. He has to go to school today while 10 brothers and sisters have their tonsils removed.

The family doctor, who delivered all 12 of the children of Mr. and Mrs. James Sopher, will perform the operations.

He examined the children when the oldest, 15-year-old Cheryl, came home with a sore throat a week ago and decided the tonsillectomies were needed.

"We could have strung the operations out until spring, but we decided it would be easier to do it all at once," said Mrs. Sopher.

Three-months old Pamela will be spared.

And Michael? 'He had his tonsils out five years ago and he feels completely left out now.

Only 8 Escaped Convicts At Large; Dragnet Closing

IVY BLUFF, N.C. (AP)—Alert police in two states captured eleven tough North Carolina prison escapees without a struggle Wednesday. Authorities believed the capture of others is imminent.

Several of the escapees were believed surrounded in an area 20 miles west of Roanoke, Va. an FBI spokesman said indications were that Charles W. Stewart, one of the ring-leaders in Tuesday's daring Ivy Bluff breakout, was in the group surrounded. In all, eight are still at large.

Fast acting local officers, aided by the FBI, quickly corralled seven of the original 20 in three Virginia locations, Earlier, four others were captured in Cambridge, Ohio.

Still at large were Stewart, 52, Wilmington, N.C., serving 25 years for armed robbery and storebreaking; Johnny Miller, 26, Albemarle, N.C., 9 years for arson and manslaughter; John Kilborne, 34, Winston-Salem, N.C., 28 years for robbery with firearms and storebreaking; Wiley Cummings, 34, Winston-Salem, N.C., 15-20 years, breaking and entering and robbery;

Woodrow Stewart, 36, Boone, N.C., 18-20 years, highway robbery and escape; Robert Council, 30, Fayetteville, N.C., 23-25 years, assault, robbery and escape; Willie Shaw, 29, Rougemont, N. C., Negro, life for rape; and Cleveland McNeill, 27, Fuquay Springs, N. C., Negro, 15 years assault, housebreaking and escape.

In quick succession authorities captured two of the escapees near Ruckersville, Va., three near Pilot, Va., and two near Lynchburg, Va.

Taken near Pilot were James W. Strickland, 34, of Columbia, S.C., serving life for burglary; William Vaughn, 39, Halifax County, Va., serving life for murder; and Douglas Anderson, 24, Atlanta, Ga., serving life for kidnaping.

James Edward Christy, 26, of Concord, N.C., and Ralph Byers, 27, of Winston-Salem, N.C., were picked up near Ruckersville, Va.

Christy was serving 19-25 years for breaking and entering and manslaughter; and Byers 35-42 years for robbery with firearms and auto theft.

Taken in the Lunchburg area were Walter Brown Spears, 30, Greensboro, N.C., Negro serving 15-35 years for larceny; and Harvey Murchinson, 26, Willow Springs, N.C., Negro, serving 21 years breaking, entering, armed robbery and escape.

The trio captured at Pilot, the FBI said, had held Jonas Soures hostage in a vacant house. He was freed unharmed when police swooped down on the men.

Earlier, Leslie Gautier, 28, Faison, N.C.; Hilliary Inman, 24, Kings Mountain, N.C., Grady Stone, 23, Lumberton, N.C., and Glenn Hensley, 35, Asheville, N.C., were captured at Cambridge.

"They just couldn't stand it down there," Stone said. He said guards beat convicts with blackjacks for minor or nonexistent infractions.

"One time I told them to turn off a fan because it was cold in there, and so they took away my matches," Stone complained.

"When I asked for my matches back, a guard hit me with a blackjack."

Stone showed reporters a spot on the back of his heel where he said he had cut the tendon so he could be taken to the prison hospital.

"When I escaped I got my first coke and first candy bar in 19 months,' said the husky 5-foot-10 youth from Lumberton, N. C.

Three Injured By Crashes on City Streets

Three persons were injured, none seriously, in two auto accidents in the city yesterday.

Delbert L. Giffen, 19, of 143 Highland Ave., suffered a cut on the right foot above the ankle when his car smashed into a telephone pole on S. Clinton St. at 3:40 p. m. He was treated at Berger Hospital.

Patrolmen Wesley Barton and Richard Anderson said Giffen's car skidded 131 feet, crashed through a stop sign and struck the telephone pole. They said the pole was broken off about eight inches below the ground.

Anderson and Barton said Giffen left the scene in his battered vehicle. They said they followed the auto to the man's home by tracing water from a leaking radiator.

* * *

THE OFFICERS said Giffen was cited for driving under the influence of intoxicants, using fictitious license plates and resisting arrest. The car was heavily damaged, they added.

At 10:05 p. m. Sgt. Leroy Hawks and Patrolman Anderson investigated a one-car crash in the first alley west of N. Court St. near York St.

Mrs. Margaret L. Weatherly, 39, of 132 W. Water St., suffered scalp contusions. She was the driver.

Margaret Donaldson, 120½ E. Main St., a passenger, received severe contusions of the right arm. Both ladies were treated at Berger Hospital.

Sgt. Hawks said the auto struck a manhole which protruded about six inches above the surface of the alley which is under construction.

Sgt. Hawks said Mrs. Donaldson narrowly escaped serious injury when her head crashed through the windshield of the car. The driver said there were no flares or lanterns around the manhole.

The officers said the car was heavily damaged underneath.

Ike, Nehru Begin Talks Vital to Free Asia Future

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—His role as a world peacemaker enhanced by landslide ovations and his heavy psychological impact on free Asia, President Eisenhower today began what probably are the most important talks of his 22,000-mile tour.

The American President and Indian Prime Minister Nehru had much to talk about. All of it was vastly important, not only to India but also to the future course of the Communist-free world competition in the uneasily stirring continent of Asia.

Communist China undoubtedly was at the top of the agenda as the leader of the free world and the leader of Asia's neutrals talked.

China is now at the harshest and perhaps the most difficult stage of her fight to develop through a regimented Communist system. Because of this, she is likely to be increasingly a troublemaker to neighbors struggling against odds to pull themselves up from poverty and misery.

China's aggressive gestures in South Asia have radically changed the international political climate of the continent. The Red Chinese attitude has redounded to the advantage of the United States, and Eisenhower is reaping the benefit of Peiping's belligerence.

Despite Nheur's protestations that India will meet the Chinese threat alone, it seems more than likely now that should Peiping's threat become more dangerous, the Indian leader would appeal to the United States and Britain for support. It is just as likely that the United States would help, and quickly.

This puts the squeeze on Moscow, which could hardly align itself against its big Chinese ally on the drive toward world communism.

But while Nehru is worried about the Chinese, the biggest danger from Red China seems some years away. This gives the United States time to enlarge on the opportunities in non-Communist Asia which Peiping's impatient truculence has given it.

Did Mom's Phone Bill Gripe Bring Child's Marriage?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—If the Pacific Telephone Co. had itemized its monthly bill, Julia Nye could have saved $100, she told the Public Utilities Commission Wednesday.

One of several witnesses protesting phone company billing procedures, Mrs. Nye said her daughter had been placing toll calls on the sly to a suitor of whom she disapproved.

"The utility refused to render itemized bills," she complained, "and I went on paying the phone bills but protesting every one of them."

Finally, she said, the company monitored her line and told her the calls were made by her daughter. The calls ceased forthwith.

Mrs. Nye was asked for her daughter's name.

"Goodness, is this necessary? She married the guy. She is very happy."

Ike Says U.S. Will Come to Aid if Needed

New Delhi Parliament Is Told Weakness Invites Aggression

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — President Eisenhower reminded India today that weakness in arms invites aggression, and said a strong United States is ready to come to the aid of its friends.

He told the Indian Parliament the United States is committed to a search for genuine disarmament but is maintaining strong forces against aggression.

"They serve not only for ourself but our friends and allies, who, like us, have perceived this danger. They so serve for defensive purposes only," he said.

The members of Parliament applauded frequently. But there was not a sound when the President spoke of the fruits of weakness. With the threats of Red China in mind, it was possible they were shaken by his remarkss.

Nor was there any audible reaction when the President made clear American determination to provide adequate forces to resist aggression, though it seemed plain he was referring to the threat to India from Red China.

Eisenhower spoke to a joint meeting of the Indian Parliament, which for weeks has been discussing what attitude India should take toward China. This week it upheld Prime Minister Nehru's policy, which is a go-slow attitude of firmness and preparedness.

There were 17 interruptions for applause but some were mere ripples. At the end the applause and desk thumping lasted only 20 seconds.

Eisenhower got his biggest hand when, his voice rising strongly, he declared:

"In the name of humanity can we not join in a 5-year or 50-year plan against mistrust and misgivings and fixation on the wrongs of the past? Can we not apply ourselves to the removal or reduction of the causes of tension that exist in the world?

"All these are creations of government, cherished and nourished by governments. Nations would never feel them if they were given freedom from propaganda and pressure."

The President declared the United States is committed to a ceaseless search for disarmament and that "controlled universal disarmament is the imperative of our time."

But, he said, "Weakness in arms often invites aggression or subversion or externally manipulated revolution."

The speech, possibly the most important he will make on his 22,000-mile journey to 11 lands, was delivered after he had talked with Prime Minister Nehru for more than four hours.

Cuba Hunting Escaped Yank

Fugitive Sentenced To 30-Year Term

PINAR DEL RIO, Cuba (AP) —Hundreds of soldiers and pro-Castro peasants searched mountainous western Cuba today for American fugitive Frank Austin Young.

Young escaped from the Pinar Del Rio army headquarters prison Wednesday less than 24 hours after a military tribunal gave him a 30-year sentence for counter-revolutionary activity against Fidel Castro's government.

The 38-year-old flier-of-fortune had boasted he would not serve more than 30 weeks of his sentence.

Sergio Hernandez Reyes, a former Cuban soldier awaiting trial, made the break with the Miamian. They got away by cutting a hole in their jail cell.

The pair presumably made a dash for the mountains in hopes of contacting anti-Castro elements active there.

Police also were reported watching the U.S. Embassy in Havana to prevent any attempt by Young to take refuge there.

It was reported that several soldiers charged with guarding Reyes had been placed under arrest.

Young, a native of Indianapolis, was among 38 persons tried by a military tribunal for operating in an armed band opposing Castro's regime.

Young's wife who works in Miami as a waitress to support their three children, said she had no idea he would try to escape.

Midwest GOP Aides Say Nixon Leading

CHICAGO (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon appears to have stronger Midwest support for the Republican presidential nomination than Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, say several state GOP chairmen.

The party leaders said, however, that the New York governor is not completely without support.

The Nixon vs. Rockefeller question has not yet appeared on the agenda of this meeting of the Midwest and Rocky Mountain Republican State Chairmen's Assn. But delegates to the 22-state group indicated it has the No. 1 spot on the unofficial agenda.

State Checks Toll Calls by Ohio Senators

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Examiners checking toll telephone calls charged to the state Senate during the last legislative session reported today that most of them involved state business.

State Auditor James A. Rhodes reported that the total cost for long-distance calls between Jan. 1 and Aug. 14, final adjournment day, was $6,079.

Examiners said they checked on all calls except those to so-called unlisted numbers. Identified calls totaled 4,577 and cost $5,370, about $1.10 apiece, the figures showed.

Rhodes said replies about calls were not received from Sens. Thomas F. O'Shaughnessy (D-Franklin) and Edward H. Dell (D-Butler). Dell is in Europe and will not return until next May, the auditor added.

Heading the list of checked calls was Sen. Robert R. Shaw (R-Franklin) with 368 costing $622. At the bottom of the list was Sen. Harry E. Schwall (R-Fulton) with one call costing 80 cents.

The top callers after Shaw included: Sens. Frank W. King (D-Lucas) 348 calls costing $422, Theodore M. Gray (R-Miami) 344 for $314, Ed Witmer (D-Stark) 233 for $264, Lowell Fess (R-Greene) $242, Charles J. Carney (D-Mahoning) 186 for $231, Anthony O. Calabrese (D-Cuyahoga) 187 for $192, J. Sherman Porter (D-Gallia) 125 for $167.

Tuesday's Election Official

The Pickaway County Board of Elections today announced that the official count of Tuesday's special school voting was identical with the unofficial number which was reported yesterday.

Two of three school districts' tax levies were approved by voters. The Teays Valley 3.7-mill levy for current operating expenses was approved, 1,257-249 for an 83.4 per cent majority.

The Logan Elm 4-mill levy for current operating funds was approved, 583-350 for a 62.5 per cent majority.

The Logan Elm 2.5-mill movable equipment levy received a 55.9 per cent majority, 519-410. It needed a 60 per cent majority for passage as do all levies at special elections.

spokesmen refused to disclose anything about the talks. Hagerty said there would be further talks and it is too early to say anything about them.

The President spoke in a strong, clear voice, often departing from his text.

He was most eloquent and unequivocal on the problem of disarmament.

"The demand for it by the hundreds of millions whose chief concern is the long future of themselves and their children will, I hope, become so universal and insistent that no man, no government can withstand it," he said.

He pictured disarmament as the only alternative to a "stumbling from crisis in one place to crisis in another, forever fearful that inevitably some aggression will blaze into global war."

"Must we continue to live with prejudices, practices and policies that will condemn our children and our children's children to live helplessly in the pattern of the past, awaiting possibly a time of war-borne obliteraion?" he asked.

"We all fervently pray not. Indeed there can be no statesmanship in any person of responsibility who does not concur in this worldwide prayer."

As the President strode down the aisle to address the 600 legislators, he was flanked by Vice President Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan and the House speaker, A. A. Ayyangar, both wearing white achkans or tunics.

Nehru listened intently from the right of the vice president and occasionally fingered a rose that was tucked in his brown achkan.

At no time did the President directly mention Red China or the dangers of communism. But these were clearly in his mind.

Food No Problem Now

You're right—you are paying less for most foods than you did one year ago. But the cost of living just hit a new high. Food, clothing and housing no longer exert the influence on cost of living indexes they formerly did.

Luxuries and services are the controlling factors in costs which go into the determination of the new worth of the dollar as compared to 1947-49 average prices.

Recently achieving a new high of 125 per cent, the cost of living makeup has been revealed by statisticians to contain such items as haircuts, hairdresser fees, plumbing, shoe repairs, TV overhauls and—incidentally—food. All but the last item are contributing to higher costs.

Inflation seems to involve mainly items once considered luxuries. But unless one wishes to go back to uncut tresses, barefoot walking and water wells in the backyard, service charges seem here to stay.

Because necessities now seem to include a far greater range than food, clothing and shelter, the livelihood is that living costs will continue their upward trend. Supply and demand, not inflation, are responsibile for the soaring costs of services. Plumbing, for example, is probably no more cantankerous today than it ever was. But suburban living has proudced great quantities of pipes faster than plumbers. Barbers seem to have no trouble keeping their chairs filled, and the increasing use of electric appliances in the home guarantees a growing market for reparimen.

Services which expand as radidly as these are less influenced by competition. The natural outcome is for prices to continue climbing until they reach a level at which those attracted to the trade or business begin to offset the demand. It may take years for some of the services now in the expansion stage to saturate the increasing demand.

Farming and related industries for many years were the main occupation of Americans. Food, during those years, was the chief item in the family budget as well as the yardstick used by government officials to evaluate the economy.

Agricultural revolutions have produced plentiful crops so efficiently that food prices actually decline while nearly everything else goes up. But from the standpoint of the average consumer, food constitutes such a small part of total retail transactions today that its depressed costs have little effect on the overall economy.

Economists contend that this trend is just getting into stride. More consumer dollars of the future will go for services and less for manufactured goods. It is another baramoter of the evolution of civilization, and ne which can play havoc with the pcketbook.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A WIFE preened and pirouetted before the mirror, fiddling with her hat until her husband could stand it no longer. "That hat looks awful on you," he grumbled finally. "Take it off and return it for credit."

"I can't very well return it," she replied happily, "because it's the one I've been wearing for two years. But since you dislike it so, I'll buy a new one tomorrow."

Cause for justifiable assault: A stock-and-bond man came to a party as a horse. His host met him at the door, whirled him around, gave a yank to his tail, and boomed at the top of his lungs, "Hey, Wilkins, what's the big idea? This is a costume party. You were suppose to come in disguise."

Regular Drills Held as Key To Saving Lives in Fires

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If fire occurs, your child probably is much safer at school than at home, says Wayne C. Jenkins, head of the Fire Prevention Bureau in the State Fire Marshal's office.

The difference, says Jenkins, is regular fire drills.

"A third of the 330 Ohioans who died in fires last year were children," he points out. "If their parents had conducted fire drills in the home, as state law requires be done in the schools, most of those children would be alive today."

The point Jenkins and his boss, Fire Marshal Wilson McLaughlin, are attempting to put over in talks and articles is this:

Children do not panic easily, and if they have been drilled regularly about what to do in an emergency—actually going through the motions—they will do it when an emergency occurs.

But children also react from habit. When awakened by smoke or fire, they are apt—unless trained to do otherwise—to go to a place where they think they will be safe, such as a closet or under the bed.

"And that," Jenkins says sadly, "is where firemen frequently find them—dead from smoke inhaation.

"It's twice as important to hold fire drills in the home, because children are at home more than twice as much as in school any weekday."

Jenkins and McLaughlin suggest you go about it this way:

1. Get the family together, then make a floor plan of your house with all primary escape routes (like doors and stairways) and all alternate means (like windows and porch roofs) clearly marked. Post copies in prominent places around the house, possibly including the youngsters' bedrooms.

2. Teach all members of the family the name and number of the fire department that serves you, and how to give the proper information in reporting a fire.

3. Get the family used to sleeping with bedroom doors closed. (A door can hold back smoke, fire and gas for a time and should not be opened if it is hot to the touch. If it isn't hot, open it about a half-inch with a foot against it at the bottom, ready to force it shut if necessary against pressure from gas.)

4. Make sure that there is an alternate means of escape from every bedroom.

5. Actually go through the motions of leaving various rooms through the window, where this can be done without danger of injury, and teach the family that chairs or similar objects can be used to break out screens and storm windows that impede escape.

6. Teach the family not to jump from a sitting or standing position on a window sill, but rather to slide out—feet first — on the stomach, finally hanging by the fingers, before dropping to the ground. (Otherwise, clothing may catch on the window, twisting the body so the jumper lands on his head or back.) 3

7. Have a ladder available, and in a spot where everyone in the family knows where to find it, to use in helping anyone at an upstairs window. (A rope or rope ladder may be kept in bedrooms, perhaps in a dresser drawer, and the hose can be kept hooked up to a faucet—in the cellar during cold weather—for emergency use.)

8. Finally, agree within the family on a spot to meet if trouble does occur. Make sure children of the family understand they are to go there and stay there. (A number of youngsters have died because they went back in a burning house to get a pet or toy.)

"Thinking you won't have a fire in your home is the biggest mistake you can make," Jenkins emphasizes. "The lives of your children depend on your being ready. Fire drills should be a ritual—a regular ritual—in every home in Ohio."

You're Telling Me!

The Entomological society, convening in Detroit, is told by a speaker that mankind is just barely holdinghis own in his endless battle with bugs. Swat that fly!—if you can find one!

Meanwhile, we read that the cockroach is the oldest flying insects. In other words, the world's most persistent hangers-on.

Winds this winter will blow mostly from the north, says a weather forecaster. Isn't that AWLAYS the case?

Scientists have now determined that Venus is constantly surrounded by a deep blanket of water vapor. The weather report on our sister planet is always the same: "No change in temperature; continued cloudy!"

If old Noah Webster, of dictionary fame, were alive today he'd certainly be embarrassed. He never heard of such words as "quiz" and "payola."

The South Pole, which is the coldest region on earth, now probably will also become the safest. The United States, Russia and 10 other nations have signed a pact for the peaceful use of Antarctica.

Girls Go Where Money Is

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The girls go where the money is. That may explain why more than half of the country's 625,000 bank employes today are women.

The United States still has 20 million bicyclists—or one for every four motor car drivers.

How sick are we as a civilization? Well, since the 1930s, when times were a lot tougher, the number of hospital ulcer cases has quadrupled, the number of hospitalized heart patients has tripled. Is prosperity too much for us to bear?

Odd legislation: Minnesota once had a law requiring that convicts, on being discharged from prison, be furnished with a horse.

Our quotable notables: "It costs so much to live nowadays," says actress Helen Downey, "nobody can afford to be poor!"

Hint to insomniacs: Don't try to count sheep as a way of going to sleep. Doctors say this only stirs up your mind and helps keep you awake.

Deer have their own secret language. They "talk" or signal to each other by snorting, bleating or stamping the ground, and through the use of scent glands on their rear legs.

Lady Luck: More than half of all adult Americans—57 per cent—bet at least occasionally. But the Catholic Digest says the number of compulsive gamblers has risen from 3½ million in 1945 to 6 million today, or a million more than the estimated number of alcoholics.

One way to look at it:. "When I pay taxes," said Oliver Wendell Holmes, "I feel I am buying civilization."

In Iran a man can get a divorce simply by telling his wife three times, "I divorce thee." To find the quickest way to get to Iran, consult your local travel agent.

It beats using worms. Soviet scientists have developed an ultrasonic method of locating schools of fish from a helicopter. The whirlybird hovers 50 feet aloft and lowers a special microphone into the water.

Marital truth: "Isn't it ironic," muses Grace Downs, "that in most happy marriages all the big decisions are made by the little woman?"

The foot, as a unit of measurement, once actually was based on the human foot. But before it was finally standardized at 12 inches it ranged all the way from 12 to 24 inches.

Quip-of-the week: Robert Q. after viewing a shrunken head from South America in the Ripley Odditorium said, "Boy, was that Martini dry!"

Can you name two birds that dance for their dinner? They are the kiwi of New Zealand and the American woodcock. Both stomp the ground, and the vibrations bring earthworms to the surface. The dumb worms apparently think this is opportunity knocking!

Is Guide Too Selective?

By George Sokolsky

A publisher writes to me:

"It took us about 15 years to get one of our publications indexed, and then only because another publication that was being indexed folded up. We got nothing but runarounds and alibis. Decisions were always made by a group of librarians, and their next time for decision was always coming up and always postponed. And since the librarians were familiar only with magazines that were already being indexed — well you can see what happens."

This is not a scientific approach to indexing and as I am particularly interested in what our young people read, I intend to pursue this subject. When a high school or college student is ordered to do a term paper, certain material is to be found not in text-books but in magazines, in weeklies, monthlies and quarterlies. It is likely that both the instructor and the librarian will point to the "Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature" as an index.

Nothing is said anywhere about this not being a complete index. Nothing is said about it being limited to a few publications. Nothing is said about the possibility of certain important periodicals being omitted not for good and sufficient reason but because they are not voted in by librarians and such who may not know them.

The reasons given by the H. W. Wilson Company, the publishers of the Readers' Guide, sound very much as though this book were like the Social Register which is an esoteric pulbication, the manipulations of which are held in the deepest secrecy by a pair of ladies whose sanction is undisclosed. Theirs is also a paying business, although their particular book serves a different and to many, an unimportant function.

The Readers' Guide, however, is important because it influences the thinking of youth. Youth wants to know and youth needs to know. The elimination of any group of publications for any reason whatsoever leaves the reader with a limited point of view, without knowledge that others have written on the same subject from another standpoint. There should be no monopoly of access to intelligence.

I have letters giving the names of publications omitted from the Readers' Guide. I have other letters showing that some new publications get in faster than some that have been long published in the same field. This information needs to be sifted before one takes on the responsibility of reporting it.

Truly this is a problem that the American Library Assn. ought to study both scientifically and ethically. I put to them this problem: two publications in the same field are available. Both have value in the field and durability. Why is one indicated in the Readers' Guide and the other not? Why are so many conservative periodicals omitted? Are they omitted because of their circulation or because of their content? But why is it that those that are omitted are conservative?

Or shall I take the point of view of a publisher who says that his books have been omitted because they are competitive of other publications which are included? That seems to me to be an unethical practice and no responsible house, such as H. W. Wilson, the publishers of the Readers' Guide, is, would resort to anything so culpable.

Nevertheless, there must be a better explanation than has been given for this limitation upon knowledge. One librarian wrote to me to make a sharp distinction between a "Guide" and an "Index." This is specious semantics. The fact remains that the guide is used as an index and is about the only general book of its kind and is very important, particularly for young students.

My only study of college textbooks has made me suspicious of everything that looks like an "orientation." When I was a student, a long time ago, we had professors of various attitudes such as Charles A. Beard who then was an Economic Determinist, and Carlton Hayes who was a Roman Catholic Thomist, and Vladimir Simkhovitch who was an anti-Marxist Socialist.

One could argue and debate with such men and one learned much. They were giants. They did not fear being bowled over by a sophomore.

Today professors seem to need to satisfy their ego by brainwashing their students. This surely is a very dumb way to teach or to edit an index to periodical literature.

CLERGYMEN DISAGREE ON BIRTH CONTROL — Disagreement on the U. S. role in birth control comes from two clergymen: In Milwaukee, Wis., Bishop Arthur Lichtenberger (left), presiding bishop of the Episcopal church, argues that the U. S. has every right to embark on a program of helping other nations with birth control problems. In St. Louis, Mo., the Rev. Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, head of the National Council of Churches, says he does not believe the government should be involved in providing birth control information to underdeveloped nations.

SYNOPSIS: Heading across the frozen sea to ask Santa to help talk the Ice King into ending the continuous winter, Oonik and Keotuk are caught in a fierce storm. The storm collapsed the snow cave where Oonik was sleeping and he awoke to find himself sliding down a piece of ice.

CHAPTER FOUR
KEOTUK HURTS HIS PAW

Down, down, down Oonik slid on the huge slab of ice upended by the storm. Ahead of him was the black churning sea. Oonik threw himself back and dug in his heels but he could not stop sliding.

Just as he was about to zoom into the water there was a terrible screech and the ice slab suddenly reversed itself like a see saw and Oonik began rocketing back in the other direction.

With a whoosh he shot off the far end and landed head first in a snow drift. There he rolled himself up into a tight little ball and lay trembling with teeth chattering and hands over his ears.

Oonik crawled out and saw ice blocks piled like toys.

But even the Ice King seemed to have had enough. The wind died down and the ice no longer groaned and creaked.

Oonik crawled out of the snowrift. Blinking, he starred at the world. It was peaceful and quiet. Great piles of ice blocks lay about like forgotten toys. Where there had been open water there was now a solid ridge of ice.

There was no sign of Keotuk or the sled.

"Keotuk!" called Oonik. "Keotuk, come!"

He ran from ridge to ridge, calling and clapping his hands. Suddenly he saw a snowdrift rise up from the ice. The drift heaved and shook itself and t h e r e was Keotuk stepping sleepily out. Covered by the drift he had been safe and warm as the storm died out.

"Oh, Keotuck!" cried Oonik embracing the dog. "I knew you would be all right! But where is the sled?"

Alas, it was gone. Together with Oonik's spear and the remainder of his food, the sled was buried beneath the ice or, perhaps, at the bottom of the sea.

Oonik stared at the mountains on the distant shore. There, nestled in those mountains, was Santa Land.

"We can make it," Oonik told himself bravely. "Come, Keotuk, it isn't too far. We're a l m o s t there."

Together they started off. Trudging slowly, Oonik often slipped and fell. Keotuk stayed at his side and when they came to an ice hill Keotuk caught Oonik's parka in his teeth and helped drag him up and over.

On and on they went in the never ending daylight and little by little the snow covered mountains grew closer. Then, when it seemed they were almost there Keotuk suddenly lay down.

"Come on," begged Oonik. "We can't rest now .We'll freeze or starve if we don't get there soon."

But Keotuk only whimpered softly. Oonik kneeled down and rubbed his hands through Keotuk's fur. "What is it?" he murmured gently.

Keotuk whimpered a g a i n and held up one of his front paws. Oonik gasped with dismay. The paw was cut and torn by the ice splinters.

Oonik picked out the splinters. "Oh, Keotuk, if only you had shoes!" he moaned. Then he had an idea, "I will make you some shoes!"

With his knife he cut four strips of seal skin from his own coat. He wrapped the pieces of skin around Keotuk's paws and tied them with lacing from his own hood.

"There," he said. "Ice splinters can't hurt you now."

Keotuk rose uncertainly to his feet. At first he limped but the soft skin shoes actually made his bruised paw feel better and after a while he was able to walk quite well.

On they trudged until at last they came to the shore and Oonik saw smoke curling up from behind the hills.

Everything will be all right now," cried Oonik starting to run, "For that is surely smoke from Santa's very own chimney!"

Ohio Girl, 10, Due To Reign Over Village of Santa Claus

SANTA CLAUS, Ind. (AP)—"It is the greatest honor to be born on Christ's birthday the happiest day in the year," says a 10-year-old Ohio girl.

Those are the words of Sharon Gentner of Akron, Ohio. She penned them in a letter which brought her the title of Honorary Mayor of Santa Claus.

The fourth-grade student said in her request to the Santa Claus Chamber of Commerce: "It would be a great honor because Santa Claus town must be a town of love—because Santa loves all children so much."

Her entry was one of some 500 coming from all over the nation and foreign countries, asking for the unique Yule present. And she received it—possibly because she added, ". . . that's all I would ask for Christmas and my birthday."

And so, Sharon, h e r mother, Mary Gentner, and her 13-year-old brother, Kenneth, will reign over her tiny domain Saturday. And she'll have the necessary things that all mayors should have.

She'll be attended by dignataries, including Evansville Mayor William Davidson, and, of course, Santa Clauses' Santa Claus. He is jolly Jim Yellig, who works full time at the job.

Sharon and her family will fly to Evansville, then come by motor car to Santa Claus.

The letter contest was for children 6 to 12 who were born on Christmas Day. Many entrants complained of the holiday timing that prevented them from having a separate birthday.

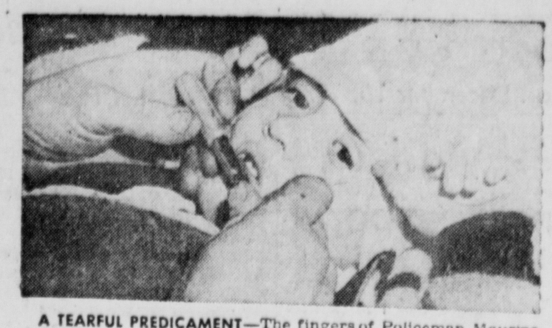
T. M. Glick presided at the Saturday meeting. Trustees attending were Dorsey Bumgardner, Miss Mary Shortridge, Glenn Grimes, J. B. Stevenson, Ralph Bolender, Ben Grace, Lewis Hill, Loring Leist, Chester Noecker, Dick Tootle, Lewis Hay, Orley Judy and Farm B u r e a u officials Ethel Brobst and Donald Pollitt.



A TEARFUL PREDICAMENT—The fingers of Policeman Maurice Stice work carefully to remove a live teargas "bomb" from the lip of 4-year-old Kenneth Crowley in Denver. The boy found the pen-type "bomb" in the closet of his home and started to bite it. The clip went through his lower lip. Doctors at Colorado General hospital were afraid to touch the "bomb" for fear it would explode, so Officer Stice, familiar with that type of weapon, was called to disarm it.

370 Attend Presbyterian Luncheon and Smorgasbord

Approximately 370 persons attended the Buffet Luncheon and Smorgasbord given by members of the Women's Association of the Presbyterian Chruch Wednesday.

Mrs. Kenneth Luna and Mrs. John Bowers headed the decoration committee and created a charming holiday atmosphere in the church social rooms.

The long serving table was covered with a white cloth, with brass candlesticks and red candles which were flanked with large red and gold antique scales filled with greenery and gold fruit.

The small tables had pine wreaths and brass candlesticks with red candles as centerpieces.

The stage behind the serving table was a Christmas scene complete with a snow man and a snow filled tree bright with red ornaments.

Graceful pine swags with large red bows and a brightly lighted Christmas tree attracted attention to the back of the room.

Mrs. J. M. Hedges was general chairman of the event. Her committee consisted of Mrs. Robert Adkins, Mrs. Tom Renick, Mrs. H. N. Stevenson, Mrs. T. D. Harmon, Mrs. Donald Mitchell and Mrs. Kenneth Luna.

Mrs. Clarence Holt, Mrs. Charles Smith and Mrs. Leland Pontius served as the ticket committee.

The dining room committee was headed by Mrs. Phillip Hardy with Mrs. D. Adrian Yates as cashier.

Group A of the association was in charge of meals; Group B furnished Christmas breads; Group C donated desserts; and Group D brought holiday salads.

The festive seasonal atmosphere of the occasion lent a casual charm which was a perfect prelude to the holiday season.

Miss Caskey Hosts Sorority

Miss Barbara Caskey, 722 N. Court St., entertained in her home yesterday members of the Beta Kappa Chapter of Sigma Phi Gamma Sorority.

Mrs. Robert Walker conducted the meeting. Members were asked to have their items for Christmas baskets to Mrs. Moon by December 22. Miss Margaret Goode and Mrs. Moon are chairmen.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Mom Is Passing the Buck

DEAR ABBY: I am the father of three boys, ages 6, 7, and 9. Like most boys, they need a firm hand to keep them in line.

My wife seems to think it is the father's duty to punish the children. When I come home at night I find them standing in a corner waiting for the whipping promised by their mother "when Daddy comes home".

Not wishing to contradict my wife in front of the children I spank them. This puts a damper on the entire evening.

I am tired of being the "bad guy". Your advice will be appreciated.

"CHIEF WHIPPER"

DEAR 'CHIEF": Advise your wife (in private, of course) that (a) punishment loses its effectiveness when delayed; (b) a more effective method of punishing children is to deprive them of something they enjoy; (c) the responsibility of disciplining children should be shared equally by both parents.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a woman age 46 having a big church wedding with a veil, white gown and all the trimmings?

If she looked young for her age it wouldn't be so bad. But she's gray-haired and looks like a grandmother. She is a maiden lady. He was married twice before and looks older than she does. His hair is also gray. People are laughing behind their backs. They are having old women for bridesmaids and old men for ushers. Folks who don't even know them will go to the church just to look at these old gray-haired fools. It will be like going to see a couple of freaks at a side show. How can I discourage this thing?

DEAR FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: If the bride wants this kind of wedding, inappropriate as it is, she's entitled to it. (P.S. How old are YOU?)

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me what to do. I went to a lawyer and he said, "Go to a doctor." I went to a doctor and he said, "Go to a lawyer."

I have been married 22 years to a man who treats me like dirt. He calls me all kinds of names and laughs at me when I cry. He won't give me any money to live on. I had to take him to court when the kids were little because he was so stingy and mean.

When I worked he made me give him all my earnings. I can't work any more because I have high blood pressure, colitis, diabetes and arthritis. Also, if my husband feels like leaving for two or three days, he walks out and when I ask him where he is going he tells me it is none of my business. I know he has other women. Please help me because no matter how bad he treats me I still love him.

TEARS

DEAR TEARS: I think the lawyer is right. You should see a doctor.

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Rev. Wachs To Be Speaker

The Rev. Paul Wachs will be guest speaker at the Pickaway Plains Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution meeting at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday.

The meeting to be held in the First Methodist Church Annex will be in charge of Mrs. R. R. Bales, regent.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Dorothy Gerhardt, Mrs. Robert Knode, Miss Virginia Metler, Mrs. Paul Johnson, Miss Martha Warner, Mrs. Leora Sayre, Mrs. Ben Nothstine, Mrs. H. O. Piles, Mrs. Robert Wallace, Miss Dhel Renich and Mrs. Raymond Goetting.

Pecans, almonds, Kwik-Kutters, Cardinals and US flags may be purchased by the public from Miss Marie Hamilton. These articles make delightful Yuletide gifts.

Sandwich change: Spread sliced bread with a mixture of butter and Roquefort cheese when you are using fillings of smoked tongue, baked ham or luncheon meat. Lots of men like these served with marinated onion rings.

Farming in Soviet Union

Mechanization in Russian Ag Industry Behind U.S.

By DICK HANSON
Editor, Successful Farming Magazine

Written For The Associated Press

Mechanization on Soviet state and collective farms is still far behind the stage we consider necessary in the United States.

Much hand work is required on a Soviet farm, work that would almost always be done by machine in this country. Like consumer goods, farm machinery is scarce in the Soviet Union.

Some of the farm machinery I saw during my recent trip to the Soviet Union was fairly well built, but much larger than necessary for the job it was intended to do. For example, a crawler-type tractor would be used to pull a 3 or 4-bottom plow when it could just as well have been pulling a 6.

I visited a tractor factory and a combine factory. In both, working conditions were extremely poor. There were few if any safety devices. The lighting was poor, and many of the machine tools obsolete. Many of the foundry machines being used in the Soviet Union today were made in the United States.

On the farms, mechanization appears to be about half complete. Here is a fairly typical rundown of the machinery available on a 15,750-acre collective farm, where 1,850 families — 7,400 people — lived.

Mechanization included 24 tractors, 56 trucks and 2 cars. To help with the field work, 350 horses and 35 oxen were also being used. Plows, discs and planters completed the mechanization.

A great deal of the field work is still being done by hand by both men and women. Harvesting of potatoes was in full swing during my visit and much of this was done with an ordinary hand fork. Much of the sugar beet harvesting is also done by hand.

Mechanization of farmstead chores is barely beginning on the farms I visited. I did see some milking machines, but I also saw a great many women milking by hand. I saw dairy barn gutter cleaners, but I also saw the manure dumped from a gutter cleaner onto a flat-bed wagon. From there it is hauled to the fields and pitched off the wagon by hand. I never saw a refrigeration unit being used for milk cooling.

Feeding of livestock is almost always done by hand. There apparently are no augers, elevators, or blowers used to lighten the feeding chore. The one impressive mechanized feed mill I saw was a complete pelleting operation. It compared favorably with similar installations in this country.

The shortage of farm machinery is probably another result of Soviet concentration on other fields. Heavy industry, large hydroelectric dams, missile plants, and so forth are considered more important at present.

Agency Suspends Rate Hike for Ohio Fuel Gas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Power Commission has suspended a $1,005,600 natural gas rate increase (2.8 per cent) proposed by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., Columbus, Ohio. The increase was suspended Tuesday until May 7. Hearings will be ordered later. Ohio Fuel Gas serves 28 utilities customers.

Athens County Man Freed in U.S. Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A U. S. District Court jury today acquitted Shirley E. Withrow, 38, of Mineral, Athens County, charged with attempting to wreck a train by placing a railroad tie on the tracks.

Withrow was accused of having placed the tie on the mainline of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad west of Zaleski last June 10. He contended he merely was removing the obstacle when a member of the train crew found him at the scene, and suggested that some youngsters may have blocked the track.

Withrow is a self-employed logger, father of three children.

Bookkeeper Said Thief of $100,513

DETROIT (AP)—Mary McCallum Averill, 58, sat silent and almost inconspicuous in the courtroom.

Then the gray-haired, motherly looking woman was arraigned in what the prosecutor's office described as "the largest embezzlement in Detroit history."

Hands shaking, the retired bookkeeper pleaded innocent and wavied examination Tuesday on charges of embezzling $100,513 from a former employer. The firm has reported at least $876,168 missing since 1950.

Mrs. Averill was ordered bound over for Circuit Court trial by Recorders Judge Joseph A. Gillis and released on $1,000 bond.

Wife of a former Detroit police sergeant, Mrs. Averill retired in 1957 from her $20000-a-year position as head bookkeeper of Giffels & Vallet Inc., a Detroit architectural and engineering firm. She was with the company 29 years.

A company official went to authorities after Mrs. Averill retired and said something was wrong with the firm's books. Asst. Prosecutor William P. Long said auditors discovered at least $876,168 missing.

A warrant for Mrs. Averill's arrest was issued.

Mrs. Averill, living in retirement with her husband Glenn, 62, at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., was found to have acquired extensive real estate holdings.

Wellston To Explain Its Sewage Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Wellston of Jackson County has been ordered to appear before the Ohio Water Pollution Contract Board Feb. 9 to show cause why the community has not installed a $200,000 secondary plant for bacterial treatment of wastes. The community has a sewage plant built with federal aid in the 1930's, but the board says a secondary plant is needed.

Ashville News Report

By Mrs. Arthur Deal Jr.
Phone YU 3-4117

The Ashville Community Club met Nov. 30 for its monthly dinner meeting at the Bastian Coffee Shop. A chicken dinner was served to 10 members and two guests.

The club discussed obtaining better rides for the next 4th of July Celebration. Another company may be consulted to bring in more and better rides for next year's big event.

It was announced that Santa Claus will make his stop at Ashville at 7:30 p. m. December 22 under the big Christmas tree in the center of town. The committee selected to obtain the 30-foot Christmas tree is Dale Schiff, Richard and Warren Brown. Gene Tosca will serve as chairman of the treats and the Ashville Harrison Volunteer Fire Department will sack up the treats.

The nominating committee submitted the following slate of officers for the new year: Orlan Hines, president; Warren Bastian, vice president; Gene Tosca, treasurer; and Charles Morrison, secretary. These were voted upon and accepted.

A motion was made and passed that the club hold a special meeting in conjunction with the Ashville P.T.A. to help canvass the village for support on the operating levy. The Community Club gave financial help to the P.T.A. to help with the ad that was printed in a local newspaper in supporting the levy.

* * *

WILLIAM Pangburn, instrumental director of the Ashville Band, asked for financial help to charter a bus to take band members to Cincinnati. The club decided after all final plans are made that he should consult back with the club and they will decide at that time.

No meeting is scheduled for December but all club members are asked to be on hand the night of December 15th to help with the decorating of the Village Christmas Tree.

The Ashville Women's Civic Club will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday for its annual Christmas Tea in the home of Mrs. Donald Flier]. The program will be build around Christmas Art and Music.

The Evangelical United Brethren Church Christmas Family Night will be held at the church at 6:30 p. m. Thursday with a pot-luck supper. A program is being planned and every family in the church is urged to attend. This event is sponsored by the Ladies' Aid of the church.

On Friday evening the Everfaithful Class of the EUB Church will have its Christmas party in the church basement. Each member is asked to bring a $1.50 gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron P. Redman, Sr. of Abington Road, Columbus, and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Cromley of Ashville were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Stanley Beckett.

The Ashville Civic Club would like to remind you that they have a nice fresh shipment of pecans on hand for your holiday baking. They may be had by contacting any of the members or they may be picked up at the home of Mrs. Curtis Cromley.

Bruce Sampsill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sampsill, met with a broken left arm November 29 while sledding at Featheringham's Hill. Bruce is in the eighth grade.

The churches of our community are busy planning their Sunday School Christmas programs to be given this Christmas season. The Ashville Methodist and the First English Lutheran Church both will be giving their programs the night of December 20 beginning at 7 p.m. Both churches will hold a social hour following their programs. At 7:30 that same evening the United Brethren Church Youth Fellowship's will present a play entitled, "The Extra Angel". Also on that same evening the Hedges Chapel Methodist Church will present its program at 8 p. m. Much hard work has gone into all of the programs. We hope you can find time to attend one of these fine programs.

THE BASTIAN Funeral Home made the following ambulance runs this past week: On November 30 took the baby of Allen Klein, Route 2, Ashville, to Lockbourne Air Force Base Hospital and Saturday, returned Mrs. Jennie Weigland, Lockbourne, home from White Cross Hospital.

Please keep in mind the day of December 12 when the Ashville-Harrison Band Boosters will entertain your children with an all afternoon movie. The doors will open at noon and the last feature will end at 4:30 p. m. Refreshments will be served. The idea of the Booster Club is to provide a safe "baby sitting" service for the parents in this area so they will be free to do their Christmas shopping.

The three features are as follows: "One Million B. C.", a science fiction; "The Man With Nine Lives", a mystery thriller; and "I Married a Witch", a comedy.

The Junior Lutherans and Junior Mission Band of the First English Lutheran Church will hold their regular meeting at 4 p. m. this Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Morrison left for San Bernadino, Calif. on November 23 to visit with Mrs. Morrison's son and his family. They traveled by train and will return the latter part of January.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. White have been vacationing in Florida.

The Hedges Chapel Methodist Youth Fellowship will hold a Christmas Party for the Pickaway County Children's Home at Walnut Township School on the evening of December 19.

On December 17 the Ashville PTA and guests will be honored to hear the Ashville High School Chorus, under the direction of Everett Mehrley, when they will present a Christmas program entitled "The Christmas Story in Carols". Marration will be done by Bill Cromley. Those having solo parts are Marty Dore', Mary Lockwood, Tom Bausum, Jim Cooper, Joy Trone and Nancy Featheringham.

A candle-lighted procession of the robed chorus will enter the auditorium to music of trumpeters, Patty Frazier and David Cooper. This is always an outstanding program and one that you won't want to miss. The public is invited to attend. A short business meeting will be held and refreshments will be served following the program.

State Office Building Panel Quits Enmasse

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Office Building Commission resigned in a body today. The action followed an attorney general's opinion that it had no control over an 11-million-dollar office building fund.

The brief notice of resignation to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle stated that "no useful purpose can be served by our continuing as members of the commission."

The resignation notice was signed by Darold I. Greek of Columbus, chairman; John P. Walsh of Canton, secretary; Jacob E. Davis of Cincinnati, vice-chairman, and members Lester Donnell of Youngstown and Robert M. Humphreys of Urbana.

Greek said after the resignation that "our functions cease," and added: "The public works department has the funds. We all had hopes of doing a job for the state. We certainly hope the project will go forward."

Before signing the resignation, the commission authorized Acting Public Works Director Lee Blackburn to pay any minor outstanding bills of the commission.

Greek said that if anything is to be done toward constructing a new state office building—and the site has not been selected—work would have to get under way at once, since it would take the architects 10 months to a year to get the detailed plans ready for a bid.

They are among 121 outstanding students from 27 countries to receive the honor. Miss Brooks and Duncan will attend major universities in Europe and Taylor will attend a major university in Asia.

'No.10' Repairs Set

LONDON (AP)—Work will start next summer on reconstruction of the 200-year-old official residence of Britain's prime ministers, No. 10 Downing Street. The job is expected to take about two years.

World's Largest Democracy Bossed by Popular Nehru

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Jawaharlal Nehru, 70, India's most popular figure since Mohandas Gandhi, is a man dedicated to keeping his country neutral in a world sharply divided.

So far he has succeeded although one of the foundations of his foreign policy—good relations with Red China — is cracking around the edges.

As prime minister of the world's largest democracy since it achieved independence 12 years ago Nehru's stand has produced a controversy as to where his sympathies really lie.

Born in Allahabad Nov. 14, 1889, only son of one of India's richest and most influential men, Nehru was educated in Engand at Harrow and Cambridge and studied law in London.

He returned to India in 1912, a suave intellectual with an eloquent command of the Engish language.

He soon was drawn into the independence movement. Turning his back on inherited position and wealth, he joined the All-India National Congress party. He rose steadily through the ranks to president.

His activities against British rule cost him prison sentences totaling 14 years. But his leadership prod so effective that Mohandas Gandhi designated him his political heir.

When the British withdrew Nehru became the logical choice as India's first prime minister.

To fight India's poverty, Nehru favors a mixed economy, with the state assuming management of key industries but leaving room for private enterprise.

In India's relations with other countries, Nehru still clings to the principles of nonalignment and coexistence. "We shall hold on to them even if the whole world says 'no' to them," he declared.

But with Communist China now holding two pieces of border territory and claiming 40,000 square miles more that India regards as her own, Nehru has been forced to warn that "we will not bow to anyone who interferes with our national integrity."

Cultured Pagans In U.S. Get Study

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—The Protestant Episcopal bishop of Albany, N.Y., said today churches must find a way to capture the multitude of "cultured pagans" who regard religion as irrelevant to life in the age of guided missiles and nuclear bombs.

The Rt. Rev. Frederick L. Barry said in an interview that "much of our polite society—perhaps 50 per cent of the 'nice people' you meet—do not consider religion as a vital part of our life or important."

Bishop Barry, here to attend a meeting of the National Council of the Episcopal Church, said a major reason for the attitude of indifference was that "the church has gone out of the Good Samaritan business and abdicated it to the social service agencies."

More Jobs Is Best Gift From Santa

5 Pct. of Nation's Work Force To Be Idled on Christmas

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—More jobs is the best gift Santa Claus could bring the five per cent or so of the working force that is jobless in the Christmas season.

Many are returning to work as factories get steel and increase their own operations.

Hopes for still more jobs in the next few months underlie the optimistic predictions for the economy now being widely aired.

But the trooping back of steel strike victims to the factories tends to gloss over a hard core of unemployment that still remains, and it hides the tendency of unemployment to concentrate in certain areas and among certain groups.

The over-all problem ahead is made more urgent by the fact that the labor force is growing and will grow even faster in a few years as the war and postwar baby crops mature. Many more jobs will be needed.

For many would-be workers this month is a big help, if only a temporary one. Stores take on extra clerks to serve the Christmas shoppers. The Post Office takes on extra help to tote the huge loads of Christmas cards and packages.

This is a boon to many of those laid off because their usual outdoor jobs are closed by winter weather, or whose old factory isn't enjoying the general good times.

The December employment figures this year should make pleasant reading when they come out a month or so hence.

By then, though, the temporary relief will be over, and only high industrial output and stepped-up economic activity can take up the slack again.

Labor leaders point out still another obstacle to job finding now. This is the growth in the last two or three years of automation—that is the installation of machines that can do the work once done by several workers.

Management replies that in all the nation's history the introduction of machinery has always led to greater economic activity and thus in time to a much greater total of available jobs.

Another Endowment Fund OKd in Canton

CLEVELAND (AP)—The First Educational and Charitable Trust of Canton has provided another $50,000 endowment fund for a four-year scholarship of a Stark County student at Case Institute of Technology. The trust, established in 1957 with funds from the Timken Foundation, now has given two $50,000 endowment funds to Case for scholarships. The first fund is financing Robert E. Lawther of Rd. 2, Minerva, who enrolled last September as a freshman.

Rocky's Economic Know-How Pitted against Nixon 'Peace'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's rooters have come up with a new appeal they hope will offset Vice President Richard M. Nixon's identification with the peace issue.

As it was spelled out by Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY), the new challenge boils down to the contention that the New York governor is better equipped than the vice president to deal with the Soviet Union's economic threat to the West.

Javits told a news conference Wednesday he expects Rockefeller to develop the economic theme in speeches during a Midwestern tour beginning Saturday.

Rockefeller's supporters regard the economic issue not only as an attractive one but as very nearly foolproof politically.

It is founded on the assumption that the infiltration and military aggression stage of the cold war is over — a condition Javits said he is confident has been attained. It accepts military peace as an accomplished fact and something the voter doesn't have to worry about any more.

This peace, of course, would be credited directly to the efforts of President Eisenhower, thus establishing a link to the administration and its record. Nor would Nixon's part in helping attain the peace be demeaned in any way.

The Rockefeller people would simply be saying in effect: Look, the Republicans have worked hard and brought you out from under the threat of military attack. Eisenhower and Nixon have done a fine job, but now you need a man who — in the words of Javits — has "a special capability" of dealing with an even more serious threat.

Rockefeller would be presented as a business man with special training in international trade and the sort of technical assistance for under-developed countries he has pushed in Latin America with government and private enterprises.

If the Rockefeller backers are right this would have a double-barreled appeal. It would be attractive to business men and conservatives. It also would have the forward looking aspects they think would hearten liberals.

Clerks, Trustees To Attend Class In Columbus

New township clerks and trustees will be given an opportunity to learn about their duties and functions before they take office January first. An orientation school will be conducted by the State Association of Township officials in the main ballroom of the Deshler-Hilton Hotel, Columbus, at 1:15 p. m. Saturday. All township trustees and clerks are invited.

The legal side of township government will be explained by Charles P. Baker Jr., Painesville, who is author of Baldwin's Ohio Township Manual. Mr. Baker has been secretary of the state association for the past 25 years.

Accounting practices and methods of keeping books and records will be outlined by Walter Garrison, former chief of the township division of the Bureau of Inspection of Public Offices of the State Auditor's office and presently director of research of the State Association.

This will be the first pre-induction school to be held in Ohio. It is being copied after procedures found successful in New York State. President Edwin L. Strawser of Deer Park will preside over the school.

Kentucky Mental Hospital Rules Tighter than Ohio's

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Are Kentuckians more sane than Ohioans? You might think so after a quick look at statistics.

There are 36,000 patients in Ohio state mental institutions, but there are only 6,914 in Kentucky's four similar hospitals.

Ohio's population of 9½ million is three times greater than Kentucky's 3 millions, yet the Buckeye state has more than five times the number of mental patients.

Dr. H. R. McPheeters, commissioner of Kentucky mental health, said there are probably several reasons.

For one thing, he said, Kentucky has a policy, widely publicized to country and city court officers, doctors and the public, that the state hospitals will admit only the mentally ill.

In the last four years, Kentucky reduced the number of resident patients 10 per cent by a rigid screening.

Dr. McPheeters said Ohio has more psychiatrists, psychologists and physicians who thus see more potential mental patients. In Kentucky there are psychiatrists only in Covington, Lexington and Louisville.

Kentucky also has a strong force of social workers attached to the hospitals to aid in placing those not eligible for mental treatment but who need institutional care.

Dr. McPheeters said he believes the most important factor for Kentucky is the firm policy of placing only mentally ill in state hospitals.

Despite the policy, he said Kentucky still has the problem—as does Ohio and the rest of the nation—of what to do with the senile elderly.

Dr. McPheeters said that when requested, elderly patients now are screened in a 35-day observation period at a mental hospital, then returned to courts with hospital recommendations.

Under Kentucky law, a jury in circuit court or county court must rule on the sanity of a person suspected of mental illness before the court can order commitment.

Besides court commitment, however, admission to mental hospitals can be made these three ways:

Voluntarily, where the applicant is examined by the hospital staff and accepted.

Medical certification by two examing physicians.

An emergency measure that allows a state health officer to send anyone suspected of being a public menace to a hospital for a 15 day observation.

Those admitted voluntarily or through medical certificates may sign out of state mental hospitals five days after filing notice.

But if the hospital staff believes he is dangerous to society, it can bar release by recommending direct commitment through a court.

'CHECKERED' CAREER—Orville A. Masterson, 39, South Minneapolis, Minn., gives the camera a leer as he is led chained to a hearing in Las Vegas, Nev., on a $13,000 bad check charge. He is involved in a bad check and credit card spree across western U. S. Masterson has spent 20 of the past 28 years behind prison bars.

Ohio Women's Essays Vie in Lincoln Test

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Essays by two women will be Ohio's entries in the national competition in connection with the Lincoln Sesquicentennial. Dorothy E. Whittington of West Richfield, Summit County, took professional honors and Bertrice A. Gun of Cleveland was the non-professional winner in the Ohio contest in 1,500-word essays on "reflections while standing before the Lincoln Memorial."

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Smaller prices and bigger supermarket advertisements for pork increased the chances that the main course of your next Sunday dinner started life in a pigpen.

Pork chops are lower by 2 to 10 cents a pound over a broad area this weekend and many stores will feature chops, loin roasts, hams and bacon as their weekly specials.

With beef prices holding about unchanged, some stores will be plugging round steak and round roast. There also are scattered offering of leg of lamb. Fryer prices are up 4 to 12 cents a pound in several areas and off a few cents in a few places, so specials on fryers are infrequent. Butter is up a bit in the East and South and eggs down 2 to 6 cents a dozen in the East.

Vegetables on the outstanding buy list this week are broccoli, brussels sprouts, cauliflower kale, mushrooms, onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes, rutabagas and the winter types of squash (acorn and butternut). You can also get good buys among artichokes, carrots, celery, western iceberg lettuce, spinach and beets.

Recent freezing weather in Florida, a big winter vegetable growing area, has curtailed the supply of some items and sent prices up accordingly. These include snap beans, cucumbers, eggplant, tomatoes, endive, escarole, cabbage, peppers and green or yellow squash.

Best buys among fruits are oranges, grapefruit, tangerines, apples, avocados and cranberries.

A final call for contestants in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Christmas Talent Show was sounded today.

VFW Commander M. I. Smith said the show will be held December 18 at the Memorial Hall.

Commander Smith said there is no age limit and that any non-professional entertainer is eligible.

Persons desiring to enter the contest may do so by telephoning GR 4-5651.

Yule Greeting Comes From Ohio 'Death Row'

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A little of the Christmas spirit even gets into death row at Ohio Penitentiary, says Sheriff Paul Pell.

A Christmas card came Tuesday to the sheriff from Frank Poindexter, 49, convicted of first degree murder—without a mercy recommendation — in a holdup-slaying here last spring.

Poindexter said on the card, "God bless you every one."

Mississippi State Ends Win Streak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

No more All America Bailey Howell and no more winning streak for Mississippi State in major college basketball.

With Howell, the 6-7 scoring ace who led the way to a Southeastern Conference crown, now graduated and playing pro ball, State's unbeaten string ended at 18 games with a 71-62 upset by little Louisiana Tech Wednesday night.

A tight zone defense and a hot, 43-point second half did it for Louisiana Tech, which had a three-way scoring punch in Ray Germany, with 17 points, and Jackie Moreland and Joe Daigle, each with 16.

It was only the second defeat in 34 games, stretching back to the 1957-58 campaign, for the Maroons, who had a 24-1 record last season but passed up the NCAA tournament because of racial issues. State won its last 15 games last season and breezed through its first three games this season.

Mississippi State wasn't the only team jolted with a first defeat Wednesday night, however. Once-beaten New Mexico State, trailing by 10 at halftime, spilled Colorado (3-1) from the unbeaten list 77-69 with 6-7 George Knighton scoring 20 points. And little Hofstra spoiled things for Army 58-56 on Stan Einbender's driving layup at the final buzzer.

Among unbeatens who stayed that way, Dayton whipped Miami (Ohio) 61-45, Oklahoma defeated Texas Tech 56-43, touring Miami of Florida rapped Houston 72-63 and Maryland beat Virginia 70-62 in an Atlantic Coast Conference game. The East's top-flight four also rolled with NYU whipping Rutgers 82-56, Dartmouth defeating Rhode Island 74-65, St. Joseph's (Pa) smacking Gettysburg 75-54 and Providence beating Brown 84-53.

Once-beaten Notre Dame defeated Northwestern 93-88 in double-over time on the Wildcats' court. Three baskets by John Tully did it for the Irish.

Texas Christian walloped winless Tulsa 99-77, an alltime high by a Tulsa foe and TCU's top total since scoring 101 against Abilene Christian four years ago.

Local Hunters Ready for Deer Season

Many local hunters are expected to head for the fields and woods today for the opening of a three-day deer season in Ohio.

The white tails may be taken with a shotgun today, Friday and Saturday. Bow and arrow season on deer has been open since October 15 and will end December 31.

Hunters are reminded that regulations limit deer hunting from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. for the three days. The same hours are in force for bow and arrow hunters for the three-day period.

Very little deer hunting is expected in Pickaway County. Most area hunters will head for hilly, wooded spots in southeastern Ohio.

* * *

POSSESSION limit is one. Only shotguns will be permitted.

Hunters fortunate enough to bag a deer are reminded to cut the white tail at the shoulders or leave the head on the hide if they plan to have the front portion of the animal mounted.

Taxidermist Dick Redman said a deer can be mounted with practically no loss or waste of meat.

Local Cage Loop Rests for Holidays

The Circleville Independent Basketball League will take a rest until after the Christmas Holidays, according to Loop Manager Marvin Spangler.

Action will resume January 7 at the Fairgrounds Coliseum. Spangler said he will have a new schedule completed within the next few days.

Veterans of Foreign Wars captured first round honors with an undefeated slate. River Oil of Chillicothe, losing one game to VFW, ended second.

Liston Hands TKO To Besmanoff

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sonny Liston, who wants a shot at the heavyweight title, isn't too satisfied with his decisive defeat of Willi Besmanoff Wednesday night.

"I wasn't too sharp," he said in his dressing room after the nationally televised (ABC) fight. It was his 19th straight victory.

"I didn't start to warm up until the sixth," added Liston, third-ranked heavyweight contender.

Besmanoff absorbed a barrage of punches in the sixth and was bleeding from several bad gashes over his eyes. The referee stopped the bout between rounds and it was scored a seventh-round technical knockout.

Prep Starts For Sebring's Grand Prix

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) —Practice begins today for the Grand Prix of the United States, Saturday's road race that will decide the driving championship of the world. It is one of the most coveted of all sports titles.

Jack Brabham of Australia and two Englishmen — Stirling Moss and Tony Brooks — are in the running for the big crown in this ninth and last grand prix race of the 1959 season. The battle for the title has been the closest ever.

It will be Brabham and Brooks' first look at the course, but Moss has driven here several times in the annual 12-hour sports car endurance races.

Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif., who ranks fourth in the world standings and has a chance to move up to second by winning here Saturday, also knows every foot of the 502-mile Sebring course.

Grand prix cars are different than sports cars. They're stripped down, single seat machines built primarily for speed and road holding. Generally, they are faster than sports cars.

Kingtson Tops Centralia

Kingston edged Centralia yesterday in a low scoring junior high game, 20-15. The contest was played on the Bulldog court.

The Redskins took a 14-2 first half lead, before falling in the second half. Centralia rallied, outscoring the Redskins, 13-6, in the final two periods.

Kingston was held scoreless in the last quarter and Centralia was held pointless in the second stanza. Gail Nichols led the scoring with eight points for Kingston.

Bulldog scoring was divided between Haynes and Payne with four points apiece. The Redskins are now 5-1 on the season, while Centralia fell to a 3-3 slate.

The Redskins host Pickaway Monday afternoon and Chillicothe St. Peters on Wednesday afternoon.

Kingston — Nichols 4-0-8; Streitenberger 1-0-2; Kelley 2-0-4; DeLong 1-0-2; Davis 0-0-0; Vollmer 2-0-4; Totals 10-0-20.

Centralia — Schiff 1-1-3; Kelly 1-0-2; Haynes 2-0-4; Payne 2-0-4; Uhrig 1-0-2; Totals 7-1-15.

Score by Qtrs.	1	2	3	4	Total
Kingston	6	8	6	0	— 20
Centralia	2	0	6	7	— 15

Referees: Sigler and Smith.

The 1960 Raven National sailboat races will be held at Marblehead, Mass.

County Cage Warfare Rolls Into 2nd Action-Packed Week

Pickaway County League action swings into its second week of action tomorrow night with at least one team scheduled to drop from a five-way tie for first place.

League leader Ashville (4-0) and Saltcreek (1-3) meet on the Bronco court and only one squad can be victorious.

Other league games pit Atlanta (2-4) against Pickaway (1-3); Darby (2-2) versus Monroe (1-6); Walnut (2-1) to do battle with Jackson (2-3), and Williamsport (5-2) against Scioto (0-3).

The Broncos are favored to defeat Saltcreek, although the Warriors are upset minded after downing odds on favorite Williamsport last Friday, 53-49.

* * *

THE BRONCOS should offer stiffer competition in the form of a well-balanced squad of five scorers and a tremendous height advantage.

Atlanta may have a nod to topple the Pirates on the Pickaway floor. The Red Raiders pin their hopes on the pivot play of Ronnie Morris (24.5) and the rebounding of Morris and Tommy Oyer (13.2).

Monroe hosts the Trojans who are potent behind the deadly scoring of Tommy Walters (22.8) and Tommy Liff (21.8). Darby is having trouble with its front line of bankboard men, but Liff and Walters more than make up for this handicap.

Walnut travels to Jackson where it will dress as the favorites. The Tigers' Tom Harber (20) has developed into an excellent center, and is ably backed by the experienced play of Gary Hoover, (9.7) Boyd Boone (9) and Lloyd Davidson (9).

The final county league contest pits Williamsport at Scioto. The Deers are favored to surge back into the win column after absorbing an upset loss at Saltcreek.

David Myers, (27.9) held to his lowest point total of the early season at Satterup, 19 points, will be tough for a rebuilding Buffalo unit to handle.

* * *

AREA GAMES find Centralia, (4-2) invading Chillicothe Central Catholic; Buckskin at Kingston (4-2), and Stoutsville (4-0) being hosted by Amanda.

The Bulldogs' height disadvantage will tell the tale at Central Catholic where the parochial school has a talented squad of tall veterans.

Kingston should have no trouble in downing Buckskin for its fifth win. The Redskins big three of David Nogle, Bill Chaffin and Bill Carmean whose combined scoring, rebounding and expert ball handling make for a power-laden Kingston team.

Stoutsville lays its undefeated mark on the line when it invades arch rival Amanda. Action always develops whenever these two schools meet. It is a Fairfield County League tilt. The Indians should win.

High Court OKs Redleg Park Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The proposed 2,600-car parking lot at Crosley Field in Cincinnati cleared another hurdle Wednesday as the Ohio Supreme Court unanimously dismissed an appeal which sought to prevent appropriation of the land.

The Superior Laundry & Towel Supply Co. and other property owners near the home of the Cincinnati Redlegs had appealed to the high court on grounds that condemnation would mean use of public funds for private purposes.

The high court verdict upheld Hamilton County court decisions in the case.

Cincinnati approved a two-million-dollar bond issue to acquire the land. County commissioners agreed to spend another million.

Drake's Take 71-37 Verdict To Lead New Holland League

Drake's Purofax Gas protected its lead in the New Holland Independent cage league with a 71-37 victory over Jeffersonville last night.

In two other games, Kaufman's Bargain Store of Washington C. H. trimmed Jeffersonville, 70-50, and Morrison's Carry-out of Circleville edged Williamsport, 72-65.

Morrison's and Kaufman's are tied for second place in the league.

Drake's win was paced by Dick Hagidorn and Don Vincent with 19 and 18 points respectively. Drake's pulled away in the second half by controlling the boards and utilizing a tight zone defense. Bill Herman with 12 points was high for Jeffersonville.

* * *

DICK ENGLISH hit for 20 points for Kaufman's. He was aided by Bob Alkire's 19, Roger Whitley's 13 and Jim McWilliam's 10.

Kaufman's grabbed an early lead and lengthened it the rest of the game. Glen Large was high for Kirk's with 17 markers.

Morrison's rolled behind the 22 points of Jerry Collins and 19 by Ray Riencheld. Bob Picklesimer hit 17 for Williamsport, followed by 12 each for Bob Metzger and Ronnie James.

Morrison's grabbed an early lead of 15 points, then had to hang on for the decision. Both teams finished with only four men due to personal fouls.

Three more games Wednesday lists Kirk's vs Williamsport, Morrison's vs Drake's and Jeffersonville vs. Kaufman's.

Here are the standings:

Foot Returned to Football On College Grid This Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The foot returned to college football on a pronounced scale during the past season.

Encouraged by the widened cross-bar (from 16 feet, 6 inches) to 23-4, the nation's major colleges made twice as many field goals as ever before. And the conversion kicking percentage was the highest of all-time.

Punting also was the best ever.

The National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, which delves into such matters, came up with these findings today.

On an individual scale, honors went to Karl Holzwarth of Wisconsin, who set a modern record by kicking seven field goals; Bob Khayat of Mississippi, who scored 40 points on placements; John Hadl of Kansas, who averaged 45.58 yards on 43 punts, and Gary Dunn, who led Brigham Young to the team punting crown.

All but 14 of the 110 major teams tried one or more field goals for a total of 380 attempts. Eighty-two colleges contributed to the record 192 field goals kicked.

Field goals proved the decisive factor in 23 games, with three of these by a single man, Nick Patella of Wake Forest, whose boots beat Florida State, Maryland and North Carolina State.

Holzwarth's seven field goals in eight attempts beat the record of six shared by Ken Cook of San Jose State (1939), Bob Hainlen of Colorado State (1948) and Paige Cothren of Mississippi (twice, 1955 and 1956).

Vince Scott, Maryland end, kicked three in one game, the opener against West Virginia. The longest was a 53-yarder by Roger McClure of Virginia against Virginia Military.

Four punters averaged 45 yards or better on 20 or more punts. Hadl's average of 45.58 barely beat Dainard Paulson of Oregon State, 45.56. Lamont Miller of Utah State, whose team plays Hawaii Friday, has 45.4 and Joe Zuger of Arizona State, 45.0.

Conerly Gains Aerial Lead

Unitas Is Passed In Passing Field

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — New York's Charlie Conerly has displaced Baltimore's Johnny Unitas as the National Football League's top passer, but Unitas has set a league record.

Conerly completed 14 of 21 passes of 271 yards against Cleveland Sunday as he led the Giants to their second straight Eastern Conference title.

With one game to go, the former Mississippi star has gained 1,499 yards on 98 completed passes in 171 attempts, an 8.77 average, league statistics showed today.

He thus jumped from third to first in the passing division relinquishing his old slot to Unitas, who has an 8.20 average on 180 completions in 340 attempts. He has gained 2,789 yards, the best in the league.

The Colts, however, scored three times Saturday on passes from their star quarterback, thus boosting Unitas' total to a record 29 touchdown passes.

The old NFL record of 28 for one season was held by Sid Luckman.

Jimmy Brown, of Cleveland, still holds a comfortable edge in the ground gaining department. The former Syracuse All-America has picked up 1,177 yards on 257 carries for a 4.6 average.

Baltimore's ace pass receiver, Ray Berry, is far ahead in his specialty. Berry has caught 63 passes for 936 yards and 12 touchdowns.

Teammate Lenny Moore is second with 44 completions for 815 yards. Tommy McDonald, of Philadelphia, jumped from sixth to third in the standings. The fleet Eagle has caught 43 for 786 yards and 10 touchdowns.

The kicking toe of New York's Pat Summerall has kept him in first place among the scorers with 84 points.

Ratings Show Wilt Can't Win Alone

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain still leads Boston's Bill Russell in their personal duel. But the standings show Boston with a four-game bulge over Philadelphia.

Chamberlain, obviously handicapped by an injured foot, outscored Russell 39-23 and out-rebounded the Boston ace 20-19 Wednesday night but the Celtics defeated the Warriors 137-116 in the second half of a double-header at Boston. Jack Twyman tallied 38 points in leading the Royals to a 129-119 triumph over Detroit in the first half of the twin bill. Syracuse moved within a game of Philadelphia by beating Minneapolis 93-89 at Seattle.

While Chamberlain was exceeding his average point production, the Celtics got another top performance from Bob Cousy, who ended up with 18 points but was topped by Frank Ramsey (29), Tommy Heinshon (20) and Russell.

Cincinnati took an early lead and held it all of the way except briefly in the second period. Gene Shue was high for Detroit with 26 points.

Rookie Dick Barnett dropped in 10 points in the last quarter as the Nationals pulled away from Minneapolis. Elgin Baylor had one of his poorer nights for the Lakers with only 17 points. Rookie Rudy Larusso topped the Lakers with 22.

Paul Brown's Crippled Crew Mends Slowly

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns' cripples are beginning to show improvement, and flanker Ray Renfro probably will be able to play against Philadelphia Sunday.

Renfro, who missed all of the 48-7 drubbing last week at the hands of New York, was running fairly well in Wednesday's practice, but not at top speed. He has a pulled thigh muscle.

Linebacker Walt Michaels, who has been playing despite an injured hand, was the only player who did not take part in the workout. Jim Ray Smith, offensive guard who has a bad ankle, and offensive tackle Mike McCormack, who has shoulder trouble, said they are suffering less pain.

Today the team works on defensive strategy, planning to put a stopper on Norm Van Brocklin's passing. Sunday's game, at best, can mean a second place tie with Philadelphia. At worst, the Browns could drop into fourth place in the Eastern Division.

Then the two teams met earlier at Cleveland, the Browns got to a 21-0 halftime lead and then sagged while Van Brocklin's passing began to click. In the final period, Bobby Mitchell broke loose for a long scoring run that locked up the victory.

Golembiewski Sets Pin Tourney Pace

CHICAGO (AP)—The World In-Bowling Tournament moved into the last half of the final rounds today with Billy Golembiewski, a 30-year-old pro, in the top spot.

Golembiewski, a member of the ABC champion Pfeiffers team of Detroit, was the big gun in Wednesday's firing in the $30,000 tourney in the Chicago Coliseum.

Sixteen more games are scheduled today and the final 16 on Friday, with part of the shooting to be nationally televised Friday night. (9 p.m. CST, NBC)

Ashville Bank Shows New Building to Public

The Ashville Bank will celebrate the opening of its new bank building with an Open House Saturday and Sunday.

The public is invited to visit the bank from 7 p. m. until 9 p. m. Saturday and from 1 p. m. till 5 p. m. Sunday. Bank officials expect more than 3,000 persons to take advantage of this opportunity to be conducted through the entire bank.

The Ashville Bank, formerly known as the Ashville Banking Co., was organized in June, 1906. The original incorporators, now deceased, were Samuel Hall, J. R. Van Meter, William M. Wright, James H. Valentine, F. J. Peters and Emanuel A. Snyder.

The bank was first opened for business on Aug. 23, 1906 in the D. H. Squire property, which is presently occupied by T. R. Acord.

* * *

THE BANK'S present site was purchased in 1912. A new building was erected in 1913. The increased activity rendered the building inadequate shortly after the Korean War.

Bank directors felt that more space was needed to provide their customers with better service. The bank moved to temporary quarters on February 1 of this year. Demolition on the old building and construction of the new building started immediately.

The building's contractor was the B. R. Lepper Construction Co., Columbus. The architectural firm was Taylor and Liebersbach, Columbus.

Sub-contractors included Kenneth Wilson, 724 S. Court St., heating, air conditioning and plumbing, and S&S Electric Co., Columbus, electrical.

The architecture of the building is early American with brick and Indiana limestone as its principal materials.

The building is fireproof and includes all modern features. A spacious lobby meets the eye upon entering the building.

* * *

THE LOBBY is lighted by candle chandeliers of early American design. The lobby is cherry wainscoated and the offices are cherry panelled and carpeted.

The bank provides a conference room for customers, book vault, inside fire escape, storage room, small kitchen, directors' room, lounges, plus stalls for safe deposit box holders.

The two-story bank building houses a drive-in window and the latest equipment designed for speed and customer convenience.

A 16-car parking lot is located in the rear of the building, with a rear entrance. A side-door allows entrance into the bank from the parking lot.

Bank manager is C. D. Kraft, cashier. He has 38 years banking experience, starting at the Third National Bank, 107 W. Main St., Circleville, in August, 1921.

He worked under Charles Shulze, Clark Will and M. E. Noggle, before entering the Ashville Bank in January, 1941.

* * *

ASSISTANT cashier is Mrs. Valerie C. White, a veteran of 17 years in the banking field. Mrs. Helen Cummins and Mrs. Louise Harris are tellers; Mrs. Shirley Cornelius and Mrs. Alice Marion, bookkeepers, and Miss Carol Cook, is secretary to Mrs. White and Kraft.

Other bank officers are L. E. Foreman, president, and Rexford Hall, vice president. Ashville Bank correspondent banks are the Third National, Huntington National Bank, Columbus, as well as Cleveland and Cincinnati accounts.

Bank directors are Martin Cromley, Foreman, Hall, Robert E. Hedges, Paul W. Teegardin, Mrs. Nellie Whitehead and Ralph Fisher. All are farmers except Dr. Hedges, who is an optometrist at 211 S. Scioto St.

Refreshments will be served at the open house with directors' wives acting as hostesses. Souvenirs also will be available.

The commercial classes of Jackson, Scioto, Ashville and Walnut High Schools will be conducted through the bank tomorrow.

The bank is open Tuesday through Saturday from 9 a. m. until 2:30 p. m. It has more than 1,600 customers.

THE ASHVILLE BANK — Pictured above is a front view of the new Ashville Bank building. The two-story building is of early American architecture with furniture to match. It will hold an Open House Saturday and Sunday. The modern bank has a drive-in window and a parking lot in the rear.

INDIA GETS U.S. PLEDGE

VUORIO LEAVES HIS ANNA — In a drama reminiscent of Capt. Kurt Carlsen of "Flying Enterprise" fame, Capt. Jukka Vuorio surrendered his ship, a tramp freighter named Anna, to the sea after fighting alone for 24 hours to save her. The ship's owners all but ordered him off. Photo shows Coast Guardsmen hauling a crew member by breeches buoy off the ship which grounded near St. Combs, Scotland.

Vicious Storm In Europe Now Subsiding

109 Dead, Shattered Ships Left in Wake Of 5-Day Blow

LONDON (AP)—Europe's worst storm in 23 years was blowing itself out today, leaving shattered ships and 109 dead in its wake.

But coastguardsmen, weary after a five-day battle, warned the tempest might still have a deadly sting in its tail.

A little Dutch motor freighter sank in a collision in the Elbe estuary, some seamen remained in trouble and blinding blizzards blanketed parts of Scandinavia.

The toll in lives and shipping was the heaviest since the great storm of February 1936, in which more than 200 died.

The 44-ton Dutch freighter Flamingo went down after a collision with the 3,128-ton German freighter Brunswick. All members of the Dutch crew were rescued.

In all, a half dozen vessels have gone down.

Four others flashed distress calls today.

A flooded engineroom forced abandoment of the British trawler Janet Helen in the North Sea. Its crew was taken off by another British fishing vessel.

In the Baltic the Finnish Vessel Borneo, 348 tons, reported it was drifting with a 25-degree list. It called urgently for a tug.

The Danish fishing cutter Stornoway, wallowing in North Sea swells with a broken rudder, called for assistance. Then its radio went dead.

Three other Danish fishing boats with a total of at least 12 men aboard also were missing, but officials said possibly they had lost their radio antennas and could not report in. They were the Nilan, 50 tons; Jytte, 47 tons, and Lyngvig, 46 tons. Two Danish salvage vessels and planes of the Danish and British air forces were looking for them.

In the Baltic, rescue ships put out to aid the crippled Swedish motorship Birgitta. That 850-ton craft, with nine men aboard, had engine and propeller trouble, but reported it was in no immediate danger.

Snowy gales whipped across Sweden for the sixth straight day.

The air-sea hunt for crewmen of the Norwegian freighter Elfrida and the German ship Merkur was abandoned when darkness closed in Wednesday night. All 20 men aboard the Elfrida and the seven who manned the Merkur were assumed lost.

The 1,719-ton Norweigian vessel turned turtle off the south coast of Norway Wednesday. The Merkur, 995 tons, was found wallowing and abandoned in the same general area by the British trawler Benella.

The German crew apparently had been washed overboard.

Blue Laws Snag Euclid Merchants

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio's new Sunday closing law brought merchants in suburban Euclid and Cleveland Heights and in nearby Lorain into courts Wednesday.

A Euclid municipal judge convicted the Giant Tiger of selling a lawn mower last Sept. 6, and its defense was that a lawn mower is an "item of necessity" under the law and also that the store has a drug department which is entitled to do Sunday business.

In Cleveland Heights three delicatessen-bakeries pleaded guilty and were fined $25 and costs—the same penalty assessed against the Giant Tiger.

Interim Agreement Asked Of Industry by Steel Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Steelworkers Union asked the industry today to make strike settlement terms retroactive and to pay before Christmas a cost of living wage increase expected Jan. 1.

An interim agreement to that effect now "would contribute to the collective bargaining climate of the final settlement," President David J. McDonald said in a letter to heads of the various companies.

He made the letter public as union and company negotiators were summoned to another joint afternoon meeting with federal mediators.

There was no immediate comment from industry sources.

McDonald asked that whatever settlement terms are agreed to be made retroactive to Nov. 7, when a Taft-Hartley law injunction sent the men back to work after a 116-day strike.

Contending the men have helped the industry return to quick production, he said "we trust that the industry does not wish to reap the sole benefit of this period of enforced production."

The contract which expired last June 30 provided for cost of living adjustments as of each July 1 and Jan. 1 and McDonald said that under the court order, terms of that contract remain in effect.

The January adjustment would be based on the November living cost figures due about Dec. 21, McDonald said. A wage increase of several cents an hour may be indicated. The industry has not indicated whether it considers that part of the contract still in effect.

The industry meantime turned down a suggestion by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell that outsiders be invited to recommend a solution in the dispute.

The secretary had proposed Monday that the strike issues be put up to a fact-finding board or to the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service for a suggested solution, or to binding arbitration of points on which there was no agreement.

The union agreed to either method of outsider recommendations, but opposed arbitration.

R. Conrad Cooper, head of the steel negotiators, said third party intervention in past steel disputes always has produced "a highly inflationary result" and the industry is unwilling to have it happen again.

Steel-labor settlements in recent years have been followed by steel price increases.

Stoutsville Files Notice Of Appeal

Citizens' Group Attorney Goes To Supreme Court

The Stoutsville Citizens' Committee favoring merging with the Logan Elm School District yesterday filed a notice of appeal in the Ohio Supreme Court. The notice contests a previous Fifth District Court of Appeals decision.

The Appeals Court decision dismissed an alternative writ of mandamus request asking it to order the Fairfield County Board of Education to transfer the Clearcreek Local School District to Logan Elm.

The appeal notice was filed in both the Fairfield County Clerk of Courts' office, Lancaster, and the Ohio Supreme Court Clerks' office, by Joseph Asher, Columbus attorney representing the Citizens' Committee.

Asher has 40 days to file his written appeal brief. Another period then will be allowed for the Fairfield Board's law firm of Knepper, White, Richards, Miller and Roberts, Columbus, to file a reply brief.

* * *

INFORMED sources feel this is the only way left open to the Citizens' Committee to effect the Logan Elm transfer. The Fairfield Board recently consolidated Clearcreek with the Amanda Local School District, as allowed by a recent state statute.

The dispute arose when a group of more than 500 Clearcreek citizens presented a petition to the Fairfield school board requesting the issue of transfer to Logan Elm be placed on the ballot.

The board complied and certified the petition to the Fairfield election board which in turn placed the transfer issue on the ballot.

By a vote of 339 to 226 more than the required 55 per cent, voters approved the transfer.

The Fairfield Board of Education then refused to transfer the territory after it was accepted by both the Pickaway County and Logan Elm Boards of Education.

The Fairfield Board disapproved the election saying the election was not duly and legally constituded.

* * *

IT REFERRED to what it termed "false and misleading representation of the issue on the ballot", which stated that the transfer was subject to the acceptance by the Clearcreek school board, which voted 3-2 against the move.

Asher filed a writ of mandamus with the Appeals Court demanding the transfer be made.

The Appeals Court decision maintained the election was wholly misleading, eroneous and deceptive. It said a school district of one county cannot be transferred to a school district within another county.

It said that the transfer petition was not properly handled and that since a tax increase would be encountered by Clearcreek residents, it should have so stated on the ballot, which was not done.

A source close to the scene said today that many Stoutsville residents are "sore" at the Fairfield Board for its sudden consolidation of the Clearcreek and Amanda school districts.

They say no prior announcement of the act was made, affording them a chance to discuss or protest the move with the Board.

Mike Is Left Out From Family 'Fun'

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Ten-year-old Michael Sopher is unhappy. He has to go to school today while 10 brothers and sisters have their tonsils removed.

The family doctor, who delivered all 12 of the children of Mr. and Mrs. James Sopher, will perform the operations.

He examined the children when the oldest, 15-year-old Cheryl, came home with a sore throat a week ago and decided the tonsillectomies were needed.

"We could have strung the operations out until spring, but we decided it would be easier to do it all at once," said Mrs. Sopher.

Three-months old Pamela will be spared.

And Michael? 'He had his tonsils out five years ago and he feels completely left out now.

Only 8 Escaped Convicts At Large; Dragnet Closing

IVY BLUFF, N.C. (AP)—Alert police in two states captured eleven tough North Carolina prison escapees without a struggle Wednesday. Authorities believed the capture of others is imminent.

Several of the escapees were believed surrounded in an area 20 miles west of Roanoke, Va. an FBI spokesman said indications were that Charles W. Stewart, one of the ring-leaders in Tuesday's daring Ivy Bluff breakout, was in the group surrounded. In all, eight are still at large.

Fast acting local officers, aided by the FBI, quickly corralled seven of the original 20 in three Virginia locations, Earlier, four others were captured in Cambridge, Ohio.

Still at large were Stewart, 52, Wilmington, N.C., serving 25 years for armed robbery and storebreaking; Johnny Miller, 26, Albemarle, N.C., 9 years for arson and manslaughter; John Kilborne, 34, Winston-Salem, N.C., 28 years for robbery with firearms and storebreaking; Wiley Cummings, 34, Winston-Salem, N.C., 15-20 years, breaking and entering and robbery;

Woodrow Stewart, 36, Boone, N.C., 18-20 years, highway robbery and escape; Robert Council, 30, Fayetteville, N.C., 23-25 years, assault, robbery and escape; Willie Shaw, 29, Rougemont, N. C., Negro, life for rape; and Cleveland McNeill, 27, Fuquay Springs, N. C., Negro, 15 years assault, housebreaking and escape.

In quick succession authorities captured two of the escapees near Ruckersville, Va., three near Pilot, Va., and two near Lynchburg, Va.

Taken near Pilot were James W. Strickland, 34, of Columbia, S.C., serving life for burglary; William Vaughn, 39, Halifax County, Va., serving life for murder; and Douglas Anderson, 24, Atlanta, Ga., serving life for kidnaping.

James Edward Christy, 26, of Concord, N.C., and Ralph Byers, 27, of Winston-Salem, N.C., were picked up near Ruckersville, Va.

Christy was serving 19-25 years for breaking and entering and manslaughter; and Byers 35-42 years for robbery with firearms and auto theft.

Taken in the Lunchburg area were Walter Brown Spears, 30, Greensboro, N.C., Negro serving 15-35 years for larceny; and Harvey Murchinson, 26, Willow Springs, N.C., Negro, serving 21 years breaking, entering, armed robbery and escape.

The trio captured at Pilot, the FBI said, had held Jonas Soures hostage in a vacant house. He was freed unharmed when police swooped down on the men.

Earlier, Leslie Gautier, 28, Faison, N.C.; Hilliary Inman, 24, Kings Mountain, N.C., Grady Stone, 23, Lumberton, N.C., and Glenn Hensley, 35, Asheville, N.C., were captured at Cambridge.

"They just couldn't stand it down there," Stone said. He said guards beat convicts with blackjacks for minor or nonexistent infractions.

"One time I told them to turn off a fan because it was cold in there, and so they took away my matches," Stone complained.

"When I asked for my matches back, a guard hit me with a blackjack."

Stone showed reporters a spot on the back of his heel where he said he had cut the tendon so he could be taken to the prison hospital.

"When I escaped I got my first coke and first candy bar in 19 months,' said the husky 5-foot-10 youth from Lumberton, N. C.

Three Injured By Crashes on City Streets

Three persons were injured, none seriously, in two auto accidents in the city yesterday.

Delbert L. Giffen, 19, of 143 Highland Ave., suffered a cut on the right foot above the ankle when his car smashed into a telephone pole on S. Clinton St. at 3:40 p. m. He was treated at Berger Hospital.

Patrolmen Wesley Barton and Richard Anderson said Giffen's car skidded 131 feet, crashed through a stop sign and struck the telephone pole. They said the pole was broken off about eight inches below the ground.

Anderson and Barton said Giffen left the scene in his battered vehicle. They said they followed the auto to the man's home by tracing water from a leaking radiator.

* * *

THE OFFICERS said Giffen was cited for driving under the influence of intoxicants, using fictitious license plates and resisting arrest. The car was heavily damaged, they added.

At 10:05 p. m. Sgt. Leroy Hawks and Patrolman Anderson investigated a one-car crash in the first alley west of N. Court St. near York St.

Mrs. Margaret L. Weatherly, 39, of 132 W. Water St., suffered scalp contusions. She was the driver.

Margaret Donaldson, 120½ E. Main St., a passenger, received severe contusions of the right arm. Both ladies were treated at Berger Hospital.

Sgt. Hawks said the auto struck a manhole which protruded about six inches above the surface of the alley which is under construction.

Sgt. Hawks said Mrs. Donaldson narrowly escaped serious injury when her head crashed through the windshield of the car. The driver said there were no flares or lanterns around the manhole.

The officers said the car was heavily damaged underneath.

Ike, Nehru Begin Talks Vital to Free Asia Future

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—His role as a world peacemaker enhanced by landslide ovations and his heavy psychological impact on free Asia, President Eisenhower today began what probably are the most important talks of his 22,000-mile tour.

The American President and Indian Prime Minister Nehru had much to talk about. All of it was vastly important, not only to India but also to the future course of the Communist-free world competition in the uneasily stirring continent of Asia.

Communist China undoubtedly was at the top of the agenda as the leader of the free world and the leader of Asia's neutrals talked.

China is now at the harshest and perhaps the most difficult stage of her fight to develop through a regimented Communist system. Because of this, she is likely to be increasingly a troublemaker to neighbors struggling against odds to pull themselves up from poverty and misery.

China's aggressive gestures in South Asia have radically changed the international political climate of the continent. The Red Chinese attitude has redounded to the advantage of the United States, and Eisenhower is reaping the benefit of Peiping's belligerence.

Despite Nheur's protestations that India will meet the Chinese threat alone, it seems more than likely now that should Peiping's threat become more dangerous, the Indian leader would appeal to the United States and Britain for support. It is just as likely that the United States would help, and quickly.

This puts the squeeze on Moscow, which could hardly align itself against its big Chinese ally on the drive toward world communism.

But while Nehru is worried about the Chinese, the biggest danger from Red China seems some years away. This gives the United States time to enlarge on the opportunities in non-Communist Asia which Peiping's impatient truculence has given it.

Did Mom's Phone Bill Gripe Bring Child's Marriage?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—If the Pacific Telephone Co. had itemized its monthly bill, Julia Nye could have saved $100, she told the Public Utilities Commission Wednesday.

One of several witnesses protesting phone company billing procedures, Mrs. Nye said her daughter had been placing toll calls on the sly to a suitor of whom she disapproved.

"The utility refused to render itemized bills," she complained, "and I went on paying the phone bills but protesting every one of them."

Finally, she said, the company monitored her line and told her the calls were made by her daughter. The calls ceased forthwith.

Mrs. Nye was asked for her daughter's name.

Cuba Hunting Escaped Yank

Fugitive Sentenced To 30-Year Term

PINAR DEL RIO, Cuba (AP) —Hundreds of soldiers and pro-Castro peasants searched mountainous western Cuba today for American fugitive Frank Austin Young.

Young escaped from the Pinar Del Rio army headquarters prison Wednesday less than 24 hours after a military tribunal gave him a 30-year sentence for counter-revolutionary activity against Fidel Castro's government.

The 38-year-old flier-of-fortune had boasted he would not serve more than 30 weeks of his sentence.

Sergio Hernandez Reyes, a former Cuban soldier awaiting trial, made the break with the Miamian. They got away by cutting a hole in their jail cell.

The pair presumably made a dash for the mountains in hopes of contacting anti-Castro elements active there.

Police also were reported watching the U.S. Embassy in Havana to prevent any attempt by Young to take refuge there.

It was reported that several soldiers charged with guarding Reyes had been placed under arrest.

Young, a native of Indianapolis, was among 38 persons tried by a military tribunal for operating in an armed band opposing Castro's regime.

Young's wife who works in Miami as a waitress to support their three children, said she had no idea he would try to escape.

Ike Says U.S. Will Come to Aid if Needed

New Delhi Parliament Is Told Weakness Invites Aggression

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — President Eisenhower reminded India today that weakness in arms invites aggression, and said a strong United States is ready to come to the aid of its friends.

He told the Indian Parliament the United States is committed to a search for genuine disarmament but is maintaining strong forces against aggression.

"They serve not only for ourself but our friends and allies, who, like us, have perceived this danger. They so serve for defensive purposes only," he said.

The members of Parliament applauded frequently. But there was not a sound when the President spoke of the fruits of weakness. With the threats of Red China in mind, it was possible they were shaken by his remarkss.

Nor was there any audible reaction when the President made clear American determination to provide adequate forces to resist aggression, though it seemed plain he was referring to the threat to India from Red China.

Eisenhower spoke to a joint meeting of the Indian Parliament, which for weeks has been discussing what attitude India should take toward China. This week it upheld Prime Minister Nehru's policy, which is a go-slow attitude of firmness and preparedness.

There were 17 interruptions for applause but some were mere ripples. At the end the applause and desk thumping lasted only 20 seconds.

Eisenhower got his biggest hand when, his voice rising strongly, he declared:

"In the name of humanity can we not join in a 5-year or 50-year plan against mistrust and misgivings and fixation on the wrongs of the past? Can we not apply ourselves to the removal or reduction of the causes of tension that exist in the world?

"All these are creations of government, cherished and nourished by governments. Nations would never feel them if they were given freedom from propaganda and pressure."

The President declared the United States is committed to a ceaseless search for disarmament and that "controlled universal disarmament is the imperative of our time."

But, he said, "Weakness in arms often invites aggression or subversion or externally manipulated revolution."

The speech, possibly the most important he will make on his 22,000-mile journey to 11 lands, was delivered after he had talked with Prime Minister Nehru for more than four hours.

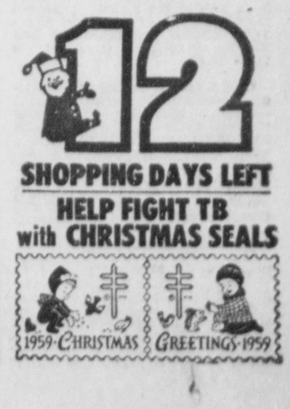
Midwest GOP Aides Say Nixon Leading

CHICAGO (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon appears to have stronger Midwest support for the Republican presidential nomination than Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, say several state GOP chairmen.

The party leaders said, however, that the New York governor is not completely without support.

The Nixon vs. Rockefeller question has not yet appeared on the agenda of this meeting of the Midwest and Rocky Mountain Republican State Chairmen's Assn. But delegates to the 22-state group indicated it has the No. 1 spot on the unofficial agenda.



State Checks Toll Calls by Ohio Senators

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Examiners checking toll telephone calls charged to the state Senate during the last legislative session reported today that most of them involved state business.

State Auditor James A. Rhodes reported that the total cost for long-distance calls between Jan. 1 and Aug. 14, final adjournment day, was $6,079.

Examiners said they checked on all calls except those to so-called unlisted numbers. Identified calls totaled 4,577 and cost $5,370, about $1.10 apiece, the figures showed.

Rhodes said replies about calls were not received from Sens. Thomas F. O'Shaughnessy (D-Franklin) and Edward H. Dell (D-Butler). Dell is in Europe and will not return until next May, the auditor added.

Heading the list of checked calls was Sen. Robert R. Shaw (R-Franklin) with 368 costing $622. At the bottom of the list was Sen. Harry E. Schwall (R-Fulton) with one call costing 80 cents.

The top callers after Shaw included: Sens. Frank W. King (D-Lucas) 348 calls costing $422, Theodore M. Gray (R-Miami) 344 for $314, Ed Witmer (D-Stark) 233 for $264, Lowell Fess (R-Greene) $242, Charles J. Carney (D-Mahoning) 186 for $231, Anthony O. Calabrese (D-Cuyahoga) 187 for $192, J. Sherman Porter (D-Gallia) 125 for $167.

Tuesday's Election Official

The Pickaway County Board of Elections today announced that the official count of Tuesday's special school voting was identical with the unofficial number which was reported yesterday.

Two of three school districts' tax levies were approved by voters. The Teays Valley 3.7-mill levy for current operating expenses was approved, 1,257-249 for an 83.4 per cent majority.

The Logan Elm 4-mill levy for current operating funds was approved, 583-350 for a 62.5 per cent majority.

The Logan Elm 2.5-mill movable equipment levy received a 55.9 per cent majority, 519-410. It needed a 60 per cent majority for passage as do all levies at special elections.

Ike Says U.S.

spokesmen refused to disclose anything about the talks. Hagerty said there would be further talks and it is too early to say anything about them.

The President spoke in a strong, clear voice, often departing from his text.

He was most eloquent and unequivocal on the problem of disarmament.

"The demand for it by the hundreds of millions whose chief concern is the long future of themselves and their children will, I hope, become so universal and insistent that no man, no government can withstand it," he said.

He pictured disarmament as the only alternative to a "stumbling from crisis in one place to crisis in another, forever fearful that inevitably some aggression will blaze into global war."

"Must we continue to live with prejudices, practices and policies that will condemn our children and our children's children to live helplessly in the pattern of the past, awaiting possibly a time of war-borne obliteraion?" he asked.

"We all fervently pray not. Indeed there can be no statesmanship in any person of responsibility who does not concur in this worldwide prayer."

As the President strode down the aisle to address the 600 legislators, he was flanked by Vice President Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan and the House speaker, A. A. Ayyangar, both wearing white achkans or tunics.

Nehru listened intently from the right of the vice president and occasionally fingered a rose that was tucked in his brown achkan.

At no time did the President directly mention Red China or the dangers of communism. But these were clearly in his mind.

Food No Problem Now

You're right—you are paying less for most foods than you did one year ago. But the cost of living just hit a new high. Food, clothing and housing no longer exert the influence on cost of living indexes they formerly did.

Luxuries and services are the controlling factors in costs which go into the determination of the new worth of the dollar as compared to 1947-49 average prices.

Recently achieving a new high of 125 per cent, the cost of living makeup has been revealed by statisticians to contain such items as haircuts, hairdresser fees, plumbing, shoe repairs, TV overhauls and—incidentally—food. All but the last item are contributing to higher costs.

Inflation seems to involve mainly items once considered luxuries. But unless one wishes to go back to uncut tresses, barefoot walking and water wells in the backyard, service charges seem here to stay.

Because necessities now seem to include a far greater range than food, clothing and shelter, the livelihood is that living costs will continue their upward trend. Supply and demand, not inflation, are responsibile for the soaring costs of services. Plumbing, for example, is probably no more cantankerous today than it ever was. But suburban living has proudced great quantities of pipes faster than plumbers. Barbers seem to have no trouble keeping their chairs filled, and the increasing use of electric appliances in the home guarantees a growing market for reparimen.

Services which expand as radidly as these are less influenced by competition. The natural outcome is for prices to continue climbing until they reach a level at which those attracted to the trade or business begin to offset the demand. It may take years for some of the services now in the expansion stage to saturate the increasing demand.

Farming and related industries for many years were the main occupation of Americans. Food, during those years, was the chief item in the family budget as well as the yardstick used by government officials to evaluate the economy.

Agricultural revolutions have produced plentiful crops so efficiently that food prices actually decline while nearly everything else goes up. But from the standpoint of the average consumer, food constitutes such a small part of total retail transactions today that its depressed costs have little effect on the overall economy.

Economists contend that this trend is just getting into stride. More consumer dollars of the future will go for services and less for manufactured goods. It is another baramoter of the evolution of civilization, and ne which can play havoc with the pcketbook.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A WIFE preened and pirouetted before the mirror, fiddling with her hat until her husband could stand it no longer. "That hat looks awful on you," he grumbled finally. "Take it off and return it for credit."

"I can't very well return it," she replied happily, "because it's the one I've been wearing for two years. But since you dislike it so, I'll buy a new one tomorrow."

Cause for justifiable assault: A stock-and-bond man came to a party as a horse. His host met him at the door, whirled him around, gave a yank to his tail, and boomed at the top of his lungs, "Hey, Wilkins, what's the big idea? This is a costume party. You were suppose to come in disguise."

Girls Go Where Money Is

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The girls go where the money is. That may explain why more than half of the country's 625,000 bank employes today are women.

The United States still has 20 million bicyclists—or one for every four motor car drivers.

How sick are we as a civilization? Well, since the 1930s, when times were a lot tougher, the number of hospital ulcer cases has quadrupled, the number of hospitalized heart patients has tripled. Is prosperity too much for us to bear?

Odd legislation: Minnesota once had a law requiring that convicts, on being discharged from prison, be furnished with a horse.

Our quotable notables: "It costs so much to live nowadays," says actress Helen Downey, "nobody can afford to be poor!"

Hint to insomniacs: Don't try to count sheep as a way of going to sleep. Doctors say this only stirs up your mind and helps keep you awake.

Deer have their own secret language. They "talk" or signal to each other by snorting, bleating or stamping the ground, and through the use of scent glands on their rear legs.

Lady Luck: More than half of all adult Americans—57 per cent—bet at least occasionally. But the Catholic Digest says the number of compulsive gamblers has risen from 3½ million in 1945 to 6 million today, or a million more than the estimated number of alcoholics.

One way to look at it: "When I pay taxes," said Oliver Wendell Holmes, "I feel I am buying civilization."

In Iran a man can get a divorce simply by telling his wife three times, "I divorce thee." To find the quickest way to get to Iran, consult your local travel agent.

It beats using worms. Soviet scientists have developed an ultrasonic method of locating schools of fish from a helicopter. The whirlybird hovers 50 feet aloft and lowers a special microphone into the water.

Marital truth: "Isn't it ironic," muses Grace Downs, "that in most happy marriages all the big decisions are made by the little woman?"

The foot, as a unit of measurement, once actually was based on the human foot. But before it was finally standardized at 12 inches it ranged all the way from 12 to 24 inches.

Quip-of-the week: Robert Q. after viewing a shrunken head from South America in the Ripley Odditorium said, "Boy, was that Martini dry!"

Can you name two birds that dance for their dinner? They are the kiwi of New Zealand and the American woodcock. Both stomp the ground, and the vibrations bring earthworms to the surface. The dumb worms apparently think this is opportunity knocking!

Is Guide Too Selective?

By George Sokolsky

A publisher writes to me:

"It took us about 15 years to get one of our publications indexed, and then only because another publication that was being indexed folded up. We got nothing but runarounds and alibis. Decisions were always made by a group of librarians, and their next time for decision was always coming up and always postponed. And since the librarians were familiar only with magazines that were already being indexed — well you can see what happens."

This is not a scientific approach to indexing and as I am particularly interested in what our young people read, I intend to pursue this subject. When a high school or college student is ordered to do a term paper, certain material is to be found not in text-books but in magazines, in weeklies, monthlies and quarterlies. It is likely that both the instructor and the librarian will point to the "Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature" as an index.

Nothing is said anywhere about this not being a complete index. Nothing is said about it being limited to a few publications. Nothing is said about the possibility of certain important periodicals being omitted not for good and sufficient reason but because they are not voted in by librarians and such who may not know them.

The reasons given by the H. W. Wilson Company, the publishers of the Readers' Guide, sound very much as though this book were like the Social Register which is an esoteric pulbication, the manipulations of which are held in the deepest secrecy by a pair of ladies whose sanction is undisclosed. Theirs is also a paying business, although their particular book serves a different and to many, an unimportant function.

The Readers' Guide, however, is important because it influences the thinking of youth. Youth wants to know and youth needs to know. The elimination of any group of publications for any reason whatsoever leaves the reader with a limited point of view, without knowledge that others have written on the same subject from another standpoint. There should be no monopoly of access to intelligence.

I have letters giving the names of publications omitted from the Readers' Guide. I have other letters showing that some new publications get in faster than some that have been long published in the same field. This information needs to be sifted before one takes on the responsibility of reporting it.

Truly this is a problem that the American Library Assn. ought to study both scientifically and ethically. I put to them this problem: two publications in the same field are available. Both have value in the field and durability. Why is one indicated in the Readers' Guide and the other not? Why are so many conservative periodicals omitted? Are they omitted because of their circulation or because of their content? But why is it that those that are omitted are conservative?

Or shall I take the point of view of a publisher who says that his books have been omitted because they are competitive of other publications which are included? That seems to me to be an unethical practice and no responsible house, such as H. W. Wilson, the publishers of the Readers' Guide, is, would resort to anything so culpable.

Nevertheless, there must be a better explanation than has been given for this limitation upon knowledge. One librarian wrote to me to make a sharp distinction between a "Guide" and an "Index." This is specious semantics. The fact remains that the guide is used as an index and is about the only general book of its kind and is very important, particularly for young students.

My only study of college textbooks has made me suspicious of everything that looks like an "orientation." When I was a student, a long time ago, we had professors of various attitudes such as Charles A. Beard who then was an Economic Determinist, and Carlton Hayes who was a Roman Catholic Thomist, and Vladimir Simkhovitch who was an anti-Marxist Socialist.

One could argue and debate with such men and one learned much. They were giants. They did not fear being bowled over by a sophomore.

Today professors seem to need to satisfy their ego by brainwashing their students. This surely is a very dumb way to teach or to edit an index to periodical literature.

CLERGYMEN DISAGREE ON BIRTH CONTROL — Disagreement on the U. S. role in birth control comes from two clergymen: In Milwaukee, Wis., Bishop Arthur Lichtenberger (left), presiding bishop of the Episcopal church, argues that the U. S. has every right to embark on a program of helping other nations with birth control problems. In St. Louis, Mo., the Rev. Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, head of the National Council of Churches, says he does not believe the government should be involved in providing birth control information to underdeveloped nations.

Regular Drills Held as Key To Saving Lives in Fires

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If fire occurs, your child probably is much safer at school than at home, says Wayne C. Jenkins, head of the Fire Prevention Bureau in the State Fire Marshal's office.

The difference, says Jenkins, is regular fire drills.

"A third of the 330 Ohioans who died in fires last year were children," he points out. "If their parents had conducted fire drills in the home, as state law requires be done in the schools, most of those children would be alive today."

The point Jenkins and his boss, Fire Marshal Wilson McLaughlin, are attempting to put over in talks and articles is this:

Children do not panic easily, and if they have been drilled regularly about what to do in an emergency—actually going through the motions—they will do it when an emergency occurs.

But children also react from habit. When awakened by smoke or fire, they are apt—unless trained to do otherwise—to go to a place where they think they will be safe, such as a closet or under the bed.

"And that," Jenkins says sadly, "is where firemen frequently find them—dead from smoke inhaation.

"It's twice as important to hold fire drills in the home, because children are at home more than twice as much as in school any weekday."

Jenkins and McLaughlin suggest you go about it this way:

1. Get the family together, then make a floor plan of your house with all primary escape routes (like doors and stairways) and all alternate means (like windows and porch roofs) clearly marked. Post copies in prominent places around the house, possibly including the youngsters' bedrooms.

2. Teach all members of the family the name and number of the fire department that serves you, and how to give the proper information in reporting a fire.

3. Get the family used to sleeping with bedroom doors closed. (A door can hold back smoke, fire and gas for a time and should not be opened if it is hot to the touch. If it isn't hot, open it about a half-inch with a foot against it at the bottom, ready to force it shut if necessary against pressure from gas.)

4. Make sure that there is an alternate means of escape from every bedroom.

5. Actually go through the motions of leaving various rooms through the window, where this can be done without danger of injury, and teach the family that chairs or similar objects can be used to break out screens and storm windows that impede escape.

6. Teach the family not to jump from a sitting or standing position on a window sill, but rather to slide out—feet first — on the stomach, finally hanging by the fingers, before dropping to the ground. (Otherwise, clothing may catch on the window, twisting the body so the jumper lands on his head or back.) 3

7. Have a ladder available, and in a spot where everyone in the family knows where to find it, to use in helping anyone at an upstairs window. (A rope or rope ladder may be kept in bedrooms, perhaps in a dresser drawer, and the hose can be kept hooked up to a faucet—in the cellar during cold weather—for emergency use.)

8. Finally, agree within the family on a spot to meet if trouble does occur. Make sure children of the family understand they are to go there and stay there. (A number of youngsters have died because they went back in a burning house to get a pet or toy.)

"Thinking you won't have a fire in your home is the biggest mistake you can make," Jenkins emphasizes. "The lives of your children depend on your being ready. Fire drills should be a ritual—a regular ritual—in every home in Ohio."

SYNOPSIS: Heading across the frozen sea to ask Santa to help talk the Ice King into ending the continuous winter, Oonik and Keotuk are caught in a fierce storm. The storm collapsed the snow cave where Oonik was sleeping and he awoke to find himself sliding down a piece of ice.

Oonik crawled out and saw ice blocks piled like toys.

CHAPTER FOUR
KEOTUK HURTS HIS PAW

Down, down, down Oonik slid on the huge slab of ice upended by the storm. Ahead of him was the black churning sea. Oonik threw himself back and dug in his heels but he could not stop sliding.

Just as he was about to zoom into the water there was a terrible screech and the ice slab suddenly reversed itself like a see saw and Oonik began rocketing back in the other direction.

With a whoosh he shot off the far end and landed head first in a snow drift. There he rolled himself up into a tight little ball and lay trembling with teeth chattering and hands over his ears.

But even the Ice King seemed to have had enough. The wind died down and the ice no longer groaned and creaked.

Oonik crawled out of the snowrift. Blinking, he starred at the world. It was peaceful and quiet. Great piles of ice blocks lay about like forgotten toys. Where there had been open water there was now a solid ridge of ice.

There was no sign of Keotuk or the sled.

"Keotuk!" called Oonik. "Keotuk, come!"

He ran from ridge to ridge, calling and clapping his hands. Suddenly he saw a snowdrift rise up from the ice. The drift heaved and shook itself and there was Keotuk stepping sleepily out. Covered by the drift he had been safe and warm as the storm died out.

"Oh, Keotuck!" cried Oonik embracing the dog. "I knew you would be all right! But where is the sled?"

Alas, it was gone. Together with Oonik's spear and the remainder of his food, the sled was buried beneath the ice or, perhaps, at the bottom of the sea.

Oonik stared at the mountains on the distant shore. There, nestled in those mountains, was Santa Land.

"We can make it," Oonik told himself bravely. "Come, Keotuk, it isn't too far. We're almost there."

Together they started off. Trudging slowly, Oonik often slipped and fell. Keotuk stayed at his side and when they came to an ice hill Keotuk caught Oonik's parka in his teeth and helped drag him up and over.

On and on they went in the never ending daylight and little by little the snow covered mountains grew closer. Then, when it seemed they were almost there Keotuk suddenly lay down.

"Come on," begged Oonik. "We can't rest now .We'll freeze or starve if we don't get there soon."

But Keotuk only whimpered softly. Oonik kneeled down and rubbed his hands through Keotuk's fur. "What is it?" he murmured gently.

Keotuk whimpered again and held up one of his front paws. Oonik gasped with dismay. The paw was cut and torn by the ice splinters.

Oonik picked out the splinters. "Oh, Keotuk, if only you had shoes!" he moaned. Then he had an idea, "I will make you some shoes!"

With his knife he cut four strips of seal skin from his own coat. He wrapped the pieces of skin around Keotuk's paws and tied them with lacing from his own hood.

"There," he said. "Ice splinters can't hurt you now."

Keotuk rose uncertainly to his feet. At first he limped but the soft skin shoes actually made his bruised paw feel better and after a while he was able to walk quite well.

On they trudged until at last they came to the shore and Oonik saw smoke curling up from behind the hills.

Everything will be all right now," cried Oonik starting to run, "For that is surely smoke from Santa's very own chimney!"

Ohio Girl, 10, Due To Reign Over Village of Santa Claus

SANTA CLAUS, Ind. (AP)—"It is the greatest honor to be born on Christ's birthday the happiest day in the year," says a 10-year-old Ohio girl.

Those are the words of Sharon Gentner of Akron, Ohio. She penned them in a letter which brought her the title of Honorary Mayor of Santa Claus.

The fourth-grade student said in her request to the Santa Claus Chamber of Commerce: "It would be a great honor because Santa Claus town must be a town of love—because Santa loves all children so much."

Her entry was one of some 500 coming from all over the nation and foreign countries, asking for the unique Yule present. And she received it—possibly because she added, ". . . that's all I would ask for Christmas and my birthday."

And so, Sharon, her mother, Mary Gentner, and her 13-year-old brother, Kenneth, will reign over her tiny domain Saturday. And she'll have the necessary things that all mayors should have.

She'll be attended by dignataries, including Evansville Mayor William Davidson, and, of course, Santa Clauses' Santa Claus. He is jolly Jim Yellig, who works full time at the job.

Sharon and her family will fly to Evansville, then come by motor car to Santa Claus.

The letter contest was for children 6 to 12 who were born on Christmas Day. Many entrants complained of the holiday timing that prevented them from having a separate birthday.

Lewis Hill, delegate to a recent state meeting, gave a report during a regular session Saturday of the local Farm Bureau Board of Trustees.

Present Farm Bureau membership in Pickaway County was reported at 245, about the same as last year. Tentative plans call for the County Farm Bureau meeting to be held January 30 at the Coliseum.

Chester Noecker gave a report on a leadership conference held last week in Columbus.

T. M. Glick presided at the Saturday meeting. Trustees attending were Dorsey Bumgardner, Miss Mary Shortridge, Glenn Grimes, J. B. Stevenson, Ralph Bolender, Ben Grace, Lewis Hill, Loring Leist, Chester Noecker, Dick Tootle, Lewis Hay, Orley Judy and Farm Bureau officials Ethel Brobst and Donald Pollitt.

A TEARFUL PREDICAMENT—The fingers of Policeman Maurice Stice work carefully to remove a live teargas "bomb" from the lip of 4-year-old Kenneth Crowley in Denver. The boy found the pen-type "bomb" in the closet of his home and started to bite it. The clip went through his lower lip. Doctors at Colorado General hospital were afraid to touch the "bomb" for fear it would explode, so Officer Stice, familiar with that type of weapon, was called to disarm it.

370 Attend Presbyterian Luncheon and Smorgasbord

Approximately 370 persons attended the Buffet Luncheon and Smorgasbord given by members of the Women's Association of the Presbyterian Chruch Wednesday.

Mrs. Kenneth Luna and Mrs. John Bowers headed the decoration committee and created a charming holiday atmosphere in the church social rooms.

The long serving table was covered with a white cloth, with brass candlesticks and red candles which were flanked with large red and gold antique scales filled with greenery and gold fruit.

The small tables had pine wreaths and brass candlesticks with red candles as centerpieces.

The stage behind the serving table was a Christmas scene complete with a snow man and a snow filled tree bright with red ornaments.

Graceful pine swags with large red bows and a brightly lighted Christmas tree attracted attention to the back of the room.

Mrs. J. M. Hedges was general chairman of the event. Her committee consisted of Mrs. Robert Adkins, Mrs. Tom Renick, Mrs. H. N. Stevenson, Mrs. T. D. Harmon, Mrs. Donald Mitchell and Mrs. Kenneth Luna.

The dining room committee was headed by Mrs. Phillip Hardy with Mrs. D. Adrian Yates as cashier.

The festive seasonal atmosphere of the occasion lent a casual charm which was a perfect prelude to the holiday season.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Mom Is Passing the Buck

DEAR ABBY: I am the father of three boys, ages 6, 7, and 9. Like most boys, they need a firm hand to keep them in line.

My wife seems to think it is the father's duty to punish the children. When I come home at night I find them standing in a corner waiting for the whipping promised by their mother "when Daddy comes home".

Not wishing to contradict my wife in front of the children I spank them. This puts a damper on the entire evening.

I am tired of being the "bad guy". Your advice will be appreciated.

"CHIEF WHIPPER"

DEAR 'CHIEF": Advise your wife (in private, of course) that (a) punishment loses its effectiveness when delayed; (b) a more effective method of punishing children is to deprive them of something they enjoy; (c) the responsibility of disciplining children should be shared equally by both parents. ... ...

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a woman age 46 having a big church wedding with a veil, white gown and all the trimmings?

If she looked young for her age it wouldn't be so bad. But she's gray-haired and looks like a grandmother. She is a maiden lady. He was married twice before and looks older than she does. His hair is also gray. People are laughing behind their backs. They are having old women for bridesmaids and old men for ushers. Folks who don't even know them will go to the church just to look at these old gray-haired fools. It will be like going to see a couple of freaks at a side show. How can I discourage this thing?

DEAR FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: If the bride wants this kind of wedding, inappropriate as it is, she's entitled to it. (P.S. How old are YOU?)

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me what to do. I went to a lawyer and he said, "Go to a doctor." I went to a doctor and he said, "Go to a lawyer."

I have been married 22 years to a man who treats me like dirt. He calls me all kinds of names and laughs at me when I cry. He won't give me any money to live on. I had to take him to court when the kids were little because he was so stingy and mean.

When I worked he made me give him all my earnings. I can't work any more because I have high blood pressure, colitis, diabetes and arthritis. Also, if my husband feels like leaving for two or three days, he walks out and when I ask him where he is going he tells me it is none of my business. I know he has other women. Please help me because no matter how bad he treats me I still love him.

TEARS

DEAR TEARS: I think the lawyer is right. You should see a doctor.

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclo e a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Rev. Wachs To Be Speaker

The Rev. Paul Wachs will be guest speaker at the Pickaway Plains Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution meeting at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday.

The meeting to be held in the First Methodist Church Annex will be in charge of Mrs. R. R. Bales, regent.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Dorothy Gerhardt, Mrs. Robert Knode, Miss Virginia Metler, Mrs. Paul Johnson, Miss Martha Warner, Mrs. Leora Sayre, Mrs. Ben Nothstine, Mrs. H. O. Piles, Mrs. Robert Wallace, Miss Dhel Renich and Mrs. Raymond Goetting.

Pecans, almonds, Kwik-Kutters, Cardinals and US flags may be purchased by the public from Miss Marie Hamilton. These articles make delightful Yuletide gifts.

Sandwich change: Spread sliced bread with a mixture of butter and Roquefort cheese when you are using fillings of smoked tongue, baked ham or luncheon meat. Lots of men like these served with marinated onion rings.

Farming in Soviet Union

Mechanization in Russian Ag Industry Behind U.S.

By DICK HANSON
Editor, Successful Farming Magazine

Written For The Associated Press

Mechanization on Soviet state and collective farms is still far behind the stage we consider necessary in the United States.

Much hand work is required on a Soviet farm, work that would almost always be done by machine in this country. Like consumer goods, farm machinery is scarce in the Soviet Union.

Some of the farm machinery I saw during my recent trip to the Soviet Union was fairly well built, but much larger than necessary for the job it was intended to do. For example, a crawler-type tractor would be used to pull a 3 or 4-bottom plow when it could just as well have been pulling a 6.

I visited a tractor factory and a combine factory. In both, working conditions were extremely poor. There were few if any safety devices. The lighting was poor, and many of the machine tools obsolete. Many of the foundry machines being used in the Soviet Union today were made in the United States.

On the farms, mechanization appears to be about half complete. Here is a fairly typical rundown of the machinery available on a 15,750-acre collective farm, where 1,850 families — 7,400 people — lived.

Mechanization included 24 tractors, 56 trucks and 2 cars. To help with the field work, 350 horses and 35 oxen were also being used. Plows, discs and planters completed the mechanization.

A great deal of the field work is still being done by hand by both men and women. Harvesting of potatoes was in full swing during my visit and much of this was done with an ordinary hand fork. Much of the sugar beet harvesting is also done by hand.

Mechanization of farmstead chores is barely beginning on the farms I visited. I did see some milking machines, but I also saw a great many women milking by hand. I saw dairy barn gutter cleaners, but I also saw the manure dumped from a gutter cleaner onto a flat-bed wagon. From there it is hauled to the fields and pitched off the wagon by hand. I never saw a refrigeration unit being used for milk cooling.

Feeding of livestock is almost always done by hand. There apparently are no augers, elevators, or blowers used to lighten the feeding chore. The one impressive mechanized feed mill I saw was a complete pelleting operation. It compared favorably with similar installations in this country.

The shortage of farm machinery is probably another result of Soviet concentration on other fields. Heavy industry, large hydroelectric dams, missile plants, and so forth are considered more important at present.

Agency Suspends Rate Hike for Ohio Fuel Gas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Power Commission has suspended a $1,005,600 natural gas rate increase (2.8 per cent) proposed by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., Columbus, Ohio. The increase was suspended Tuesday until May 7. Hearings will be ordered later. Ohio Fuel Gas serves 28 utilities customers.

Athens County Man Freed in U.S. Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A U. S. District Court jury today acquitted Shirley E. Withrow, 38, of Mineral, Athens County, charged with attempting to wreck a train by placing a railroad tie on the tracks.

Withrow was accused of having placed the tie on the mainline of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad west of Zaleski last June 10. He contended he merely was removing the obstacle when a member of the train crew found him at the scene, and suggested that some youngsters may have blocked the track.

Withrow is a self-employed logger, father of three children.

Bookkeeper Said Thief of $100,513

DETROIT (AP)—Mary McCallum Averill, 58, sat silent and almost inconspicuous in the courtroom.

Then the gray-haired, motherly looking woman was arraigned in what the prosecutor's office described as "the largest embezzlement in Detroit history."

Hands shaking, the retired bookkeeper pleaded innocent and wavied examination Tuesday on charges of embezzling $100,513 from a former employer. The firm has reported at least $876,168 missing since 1950.

Mrs. Averill was ordered bound over for Circuit Court trial by Recorders Judge Joseph A. Gillis and released on $1,000 bond.

Wife of a former Detroit police sergeant, Mrs. Averill retired in 1957 from her $20000-a-year position as head bookkeeper of Giffels & Vallet Inc., a Detroit architectural and engineering firm. She was with the company 29 years.

A company official went to authorities after Mrs. Averill retired and said something was wrong with the firm's books. Asst. Prosecutor William P. Long said auditors discovered at least $876,168 missing.

A warrant for Mrs. Averill's arrest was issued.

Mrs. Averill, living in retirement with her husband Glenn, 62, at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., was found to have acquired extensive real estate holdings.

Wellston To Explain Its Sewage Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Wellston of Jackson County has been ordered to appear before the Ohio Water Pollution Contract Board Feb. 9 to show cause why the community has not installed a $200,000 secondary plant for bacterial treatment of wastes. The community has a sewage plant built with federal aid in the 1930's, but the board says a secondary plant is needed.

Ashville News Report

By Mrs. Arthur Deal Jr.
Phone YU 3-4117

The Ashville Community Club met Nov. 30 for its monthly dinner meeting at the Bastian Coffee Shop. A chicken dinner was served to 10 members and two guests.

The club discussed obtaining better rides for the next 4th of July Celebration. Another company may be consulted to bring in more and better rides for next year's big event.

It was announced that Santa Claus will make his stop at Ashville at 7:30 p. m. December 22 under the big Christmas tree in the center of town. The committee selected to obtain the 30-foot Christmas tree is Dale Schiff, Richard and Warren Brown. Gene Tosca will serve as chairman of the treats and the Ashville Harrison Volunteer Fire Department will sack up the treats.

The nominating committee submitted the following slate of officers for the new year: Orlan Hines, president; Warren Bastian, vice president; Gene Tosca, treasurer; and Charles Morrison, secretary. These were voted upon and accepted.

A motion was made and passed that the club hold a special meeting in conjunction with the Ashville P.T.A. to help canvass the village for support on the operating levy. The Community Club gave financial help to the P.T.A. to help with the ad that was printed in a local newspaper in supporting the levy.

* * *

WILLIAM Pangburn, instrumental director of the Ashville Band, asked for financial help to charter a bus to take band members to Cincinnati. The club decided after all final plans are made that he should consult back with the club and they will decide at that time.

No meeting is scheduled for December but all club members are asked to be on hand the night of December 15th to help with the decorating of the Village Christmas Tree.

The Ashville Women's Civic Club will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday for its annual Christmas Tea in the home of Mrs. Donald Flierl. The program will be build around Christmas Art and Music.

The Evangelical United Brethren Church Christmas Family Night will be held at the church at 6:30 p. m. Thursday with a pot-luck supper. A program is being planned and every family in the church is urged to attend. This event is sponsored by the Ladies' Aid of the church.

On Friday evening the Ever-faithful Class of the EUB Church will have its Christmas party in the church basement. Each member is asked to bring a $1.50 gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron P. Redman, Sr. of Abington Road, Columbus, and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Cromley of Ashville were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Stanley Beckett.

The Ashville Civic Club would like to remind you that they have a nice fresh shipment of pecans on hand for your holiday baking. They may be had by contacting any of the members or they may be picked up at the home of Mrs. Curtis Cromley.

Bruce Sampsill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sampsill, met with a broken left arm November 29 while sledding at Featheringham's Hill. Bruce is in the eighth grade.

The churches of our community are busy planning their Sunday School Christmas programs to be given this Christmas season. The Ashville Methodist and the First English Lutheran Church both will be giving their programs the night of December 20 beginning at 7 p.m. Both churches will hold a social hour following their programs. At 7:30 that same evening the United Brethren Church Youth Fellowship's will present a play entitled, "The Extra Angel". Also on that same evening the Hedges Chapel Methodist Church will present its program at 8 p. m. Much hard work has gone into all of the programs. We hope you can find time to attend one of these fine programs.

THE BASTIAN Funeral Home made the following ambulance runs this past week: On November 30 took the baby of Allen Klein, Route 2, Ashville, to Lockbourne Air Force Base Hospital and Saturday, returned Mrs. Jennie Weigland, Lockbourne, home from White Cross Hospital.

Please keep in mind the day of December 12 when the Ashville-Harrison Band Boosters will entertain your children with an all afternoon movie. The doors will open at noon and the last feature will end at 4:30 p. m. Refreshments will be served. The idea of the Booster Club is to provide a safe "baby sitting" service for the parents in this area so they will be free to do their Christmas shopping.

The three features are as follows: "One Million B. C.", a science fiction; "The Man With Nine Lives", a mystery thriller; and "I Married a Witch", a comedy.

The Junior Lutherans and Junior Mission Band of the First English Lutheran Church will hold their regular meeting at 4 p. m. this Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Morrison left for San Bernadino, Calif. on November 23 to visit with Mrs. Morrison's son and his family. They traveled by train and will return the latter part of January.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. White have been vacationing in Florida.

The Hedges Chapel Methodist Youth Fellowship will hold a Christmas Party for the Pickaway County Children's Home at Walnut Township School on the evening of December 19.

On December 17 the Ashville PTA and guests will be honored to hear the Ashville High School Chorus, under the direction of Everett Mehrley, when they will present a Christmas program entitled "The Christmas Story in Carols". Marration will be done by Bill Cromley. Those having solo parts are Marty Dore', Mary Lockwood, Tom Bausum, Jim Cooper, Joy Trone and Nancy Featheringham.

A candle-lighted procession of the robed chorus will enter the auditorium to music of trumpeters, Patty Frazier and David Cooper. This is always an outstanding program and one that you won't want to miss. The public is invited to attend. A short business meeting will be held and refreshments will be served following the program.

State Office Building Panel Quits Enmasse

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Office Building Commission resigned in a body today. The action followed an attorney general's opinion that it had no control over an 11-million-dollar office building fund.

The brief notice of resignation to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle stated that "no useful purpose can be served by our continuing as members of the commission."

The resignation notice was signed by Darold I. Greek of Columbus, chairman; John P. Walsh of Canton, secretary; Jacob E. Davis of Cincinnati, vice-chairman, and members Lester Donnell of Youngstown and Robert M. Humphreys of Urbana.

Greek said after the resignation that "our functions cease," and added: "The public works department has the funds. We all had hopes of doing a job for the state. We certainly hope the project will go forward."

Before signing the resignation, the commission authorized Acting Public Works Director Lee Blackburn to pay any minor outstanding bills of the commission.

Greek said that if anything is to be done toward constructing a new state office building—and the site has not been selected—work would have to get under way at once, since it would take the architects 10 months to a year to get the detailed plans ready for a bid.

They are among 121 outstanding students from 27 countries to receive the honor. Miss Brooks and Duncan will attend major universities in Europe and Taylor will attend a major university in Asia.

'No.10' Repairs Set

LONDON (AP)—Work will start next summer on reconstruction of the 200-year-old official residence of Britain's prime ministers, No. 10 Downing Street. The job is expected to take about two years.

World's Largest Democracy Bossed by Popular Nehru

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Jawaharlal Nehru, 70, India's most popular figure since Mohandas Gandhi, is a man dedi- .... cated to keeping his country neutral in a world sharply divided.

So far he has succeeded although one of the foundations of his foreign policy—good relations with Red China — is cracking around the edges.

As prime minister of the world's largest democracy since it achieved independence 12 years ago Nehru's stand has produced a controversy as to where his sympathies really lie.

Born in Allahabad Nov. 14, 1889, only son of one of India's richest and most influential men, Nehru was educated in Engand at Harrow and Cambridge and studied law in London.

He returned to India in 1912, a suave intellectual with an eloquent command of the Engish language.

He soon was drawn into the independence movement. Turning his back on inherited position and wealth, he joined the All-India National Congress party. He rose steadily through the ranks to president.

His activities against British rule cost him prison sentences totaling 14 years. But his leadership prod so effective that Mohandas Gandhi designated him his political heir.

When the British withdrew Nehru became the logical choice as India's first prime minister.

To fight India's poverty, Nehru favors a mixed economy, with the state assuming management of key industries but leaving room for private enterprise.

In India's relations with other countries, Nehru still clings to the principles of nonalignment and coexistence. "We shall hold on to them even if the whole world says 'no' to them," he declared.

But with Communist China now holding two pieces of border territory and claiming 40,000 square miles more that India regards as her own, Nehru has been forced to warn that "we will not bow to anyone who interferes with our national integrity."

Cultured Pagans In U.S. Get Study

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—The Protestant Episcopal bishop of Albany, N.Y., said today churches must find a way to capture the multitude of "cultured pagans" who regard religion as irrelevant to life in the age of guided missiles and nuclear bombs.

The Rt. Rev. Frederick L. Barry said in an interview that "much of our polite society—perhaps 50 per cent of the 'nice people' you meet—do not consider religion as a vital part of our life or important."

Bishop Barry, here to attend a meeting of the National Council of the Episcopal Church, said a major reason for the attitude of indifference was that "the church has gone out of the Good Samaritan business and abdicated it to the social service agencies."

More Jobs Is Best Gift From Santa

5 Pct. of Nation's Work Force To Be Idled on Christmas

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—More jobs is the best gift Santa Claus could bring the five per cent or so of the working force that is jobless in the Christmas season.

Many are returning to work as factories get steel and increase their own operations.

Hopes for still more jobs in the next few months underlie the optimistic predictions for the economy now being widely aired.

But the trooping back of steel strike victims to the factories tends to gloss over a hard core of unemployment that still remains, and it hides the tendency of unemployment to concentrate in certain areas and among certain groups.

The over-all problem ahead is made more urgent by the fact that the labor force is growing and will grow even faster in a few years as the war and postwar baby crops mature. Many more jobs will be needed.

For many would-be workers this month is a big help, if only a temporary one. Stores take on extra clerks to serve the Christmas shoppers. The Post Office takes on extra help to tote the huge loads of Christmas cards and packages.

This is a boon to many of those laid off because their usual outdoor jobs are closed by winter weather, or whose old factory isn't enjoying the general good times.

The December employment figures this year should make pleasant reading when they come out a month or so hence.

By then, though, the temporary relief will be over, and only high industrial output and stepped-up economic activity can take up the slack again.

Labor leaders point out still another obstacle to job finding now. This is the growth in the last two or three years of automation—that is the installation of machines that can do the work once done by several workers.

Management replies that in all the nation's history the introduction of machinery has always led to greater economic activity and thus in time to a much greater total of available jobs.

Another Endowment Fund OKd in Canton

CLEVELAND (AP)—The First Educational and Charitable Trust of Canton has provided another $50,000 endowment fund for a four-year scholarship of a Stark County student at Case Institute of Technology. The trust, established in 1957 with funds from the Timken Foundation, now has given two $50,000 endowment funds to Case for scholarships. The first fund is financing Robert E. Lawther of Rd. 2, Minerva, who enrolled last September as a freshman.

Rocky's Economic Know-How Pitted against Nixon 'Peace'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's rooters have come up with a new appeal they hope will offset Vice President Richard M. Nixon's identification with the peace issue.

As it was spelled out by Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY), the new challenge boils down to the contention that the New York governor is better equipped than the vice president to deal with the Soviet Union's economic threat to the West.

Javits told a news conference Wednesday he expects Rockefeller to develop the economic theme in speeches during a Midwestern tour beginning Saturday.

Rockefeller's supporters regard the economic issue not only as an attractive one but as very nearly foolproof politically.

It is founded on the assumption that the infiltration and military aggression stage of the cold war is over — a condition Javits said he is confident has been attained. It accepts military peace as an accomplished fact and something the voter doesn't have to worry about any more.

This peace, of course, would be credited directly to the efforts of President Eisenhower, thus establishing a link to the administration and its record. Nor would Nixon's part in helping attain the peace be demeaned in any way.

The Rockefeller people would simply be saying in effect: Look, the Republicans have worked hard and brought you out from under the threat of military attack. Eisenhower and Nixon have done a fine job, but now you need a man who — in the words of Javits — has "a special capability" of dealing with an even more serious threat.

Rockefeller would be presented as a business man with special training in international trade and the sort of technical assistance for under-developed countries he has pushed in Latin America with government and private enterprises.

If the Rockefeller backers are right this would have a double-barreled appeal. It would be attractive to business men and conservatives. It also would have the forward looking aspects they think would hearten liberals.

Clerks, Trustees To Attend Class In Columbus

New township clerks and trustees will be given an opportunity to learn about their duties and functions before they take office January first. An orientation school will be conducted by the State Association of Township officials in the main ballroom of the Deshler-Hilton Hotel, Columbus, at 1:15 p. m. Saturday. All township trustees and clerks are invited.

The legal side of township government will be explained by Charles P. Baker Jr., Painesville, who is author of Baldwin's Ohio Township Manual. Mr. Baker has been secretary of the state association for the past 25 years.

Accounting practices and methods of keeping books and records will be outlined by Walter Garrison, former chief of the township division of the Bureau of Inspection of Public Offices of the State Auditor's office and presently director of research of the State Association.

This will be the first pre-induction school to be held in Ohio. It is being copied after procedures found successful in New York State. President Edwin L. Strawser of Deer Park will preside over the school.

Kentucky Mental Hospital Rules Tighter than Ohio's

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Are Kentuckians more sane than Ohioans? You might think so after a quick look at statistics.

There are 36,000 patients in Ohio state mental institutions, but there are only 6,914 in Kentucky's four similar hospitals.

Ohio's population of 9½ million is three times greater than Kentucky's 3 millions, yet the Buckeye state has more than five times the number of mental patients.

Dr. H. R. McPheeters, commissioner of Kentucky mental health, said there are probably several reasons.

For one thing, he said, Kentucky has a policy, widely publicized to country and city court officers, doctors and the public, that the state hospitals will admit only the mentally ill.

In the last four years, Kentucky reduced the number of resident patients 10 per cent by a rigid screening.

Dr. McPheeters said Ohio has more psychiatrists, psychologists and physicians who thus see more potential mental patients. In Kentucky there are psychiatrists only in Covington, Lexington and Louisville.

Kentucky also has a strong force of social workers attached to the hospitals to aid in placing those not eligible for mental treatment but who need institutional care.

Dr. McPheeters said he believes the most important factor for Kentucky is the firm policy of placing only mentally ill in state hospitals.

Despite the policy, he said Kentucky still has the problem—as does Ohio and the rest of the nation—of what to do with the senile elderly.

Dr. McPheeters said that when requested, elderly patients now are screened in a 35-day observation period at a mental hospital, then returned to courts with hospital recommendations.

Under Kentucky law, a jury in circuit court or county court must rule on the sanity of a person suspected of mental illness before the court can order commitment.

Besides court commitment, however, admission to mental hospitals can be made these three ways:

Voluntarily, where the applicant is examined by the hospital staff and accepted.

Medical certification by two examing physicians.

An emergency measure that allows a state health officer to send anyone suspected of being a public menace to a hospital for a 15 day observation.

Those admitted voluntarily or through medical certificates may sign out of state mental hospitals five days after filing notice.

But if the hospital staff believes he is dangerous to society, it can bar release by recommending direct commitment through a court.

'CHECKERED' CAREER—Orville A. Masterson, 39, South Minneapolis, Minn., gives the camera a leer as he is led chained to a hearing in Las Vegas, Nev., on a $13,000 bad check charge. He is involved in a bad check and credit card spree across western U. S. Masterson has spent 20 of the past 28 years behind prison bars.

Ohio Women's Essays Vie in Lincoln Test

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Essays by two women will be Ohio's entries in the national competition in connection with the Lincoln Sesquicentennial. Dorothy E. Whittington of West Richfield, Summit County, took professional honors and Bertrice A. Gun of Cleveland was the non-professional winner in the Ohio contest in 1,500-word essays on "reflections while standing before the Lincoln Memorial."

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Smaller prices and bigger supermarket advertisements for pork increased the chances that the main course of your next Sunday dinner started life in a pigpen.

Pork chops are lower by 2 to 10 cents a pound over a broad area this weekend and many stores will feature chops, loin roasts, hams and bacon as their weekly specials.

With beef prices holding about unchanged, some stores will be plugging round steak and round roast. There also are scattered offering of leg of lamb. Fryer prices are up 4 to 12 cents a pound in several areas and off a few cents in a few places, so specials on fryers are infrequent. Butter is up a bit in the East and South and eggs down 2 to 6 cents a dozen in the East.

Vegetables on the outstanding buy list this week are broccoli, brussels sprouts, cauliflower kale, mushrooms, onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes, rutabagas and the winter types of squash (acorn and butternut). You can also get good buys among artichokes, carrots, celery, western iceberg lettuce, spinach and beets.

Recent freezing weather in Florida, a big winter vegetable growing area, has curtailed the supply of some items and sent prices up accordingly. These include snap beans, cucumbers, eggplant, tomatoes, endive, escarole, cabbage, peppers and green or yellow squash.

Best buys among fruits are oranges, grapefruit, tangerines, apples, avocados and cranberries.

Yule Greeting Comes From Ohio 'Death Row'

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A little of the Christmas spirit even gets into death row at Ohio Penitentiary, says Sheriff Paul Pell.

A Christmas card came Tuesday to the sheriff from Frank Poindexter, 49, convicted of first degree murder—without a mercy recommendation — in a holdup-slaying here last spring.

Poindexter said on the card, "God bless you every one."

Mississippi State Ends Win Streak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

No more All America Bailey Howell and no more winning streak for Mississippi State in major college basketball.

With Howell, the 6-7 scoring ace who led the way to a Southeastern Conference crown, now graduated and playing pro ball, State's unbeaten string ended at 18 games with a 71-62 upset by little Louisiana Tech Wednesday night.

A tight zone defense and a hot, 43-point second half did it for Louisiana Tech, which had a three-way scoring punch in Ray Germany, with 17 points, and Jackie Moreland and Joe Daigle, each with 16.

It was only the second defeat in 34 games, stretching back to the 1957-58 campaign, for the Maroons, who had a 24-1 record last season but passed up the NCAA tournament because of racial issues. State won its last 15 games last season and breezed through its first three games this season.

Mississippi State wasn't the only team jolted with a first defeat Wednesday night, however. Once-beaten New Mexico State, trailing by 10 at halftime, spilled Colorado (3-1) from the unbeaten list 77-69 with 6-7 George Knighton scoring 20 points. And little Hofstra spoiled things for Army 58-56 on Stan Einbender's driving layup at the final buzzer.

Among unbeatens who stayed that way, Dayton whipped Miami (Ohio) 61-45, Oklahoma defeated Texas Tech 56-43, touring Miami of Florida rapped Houston 72-63 and Maryland beat Virginia 70-62 in an Atlantic Coast Conference game. The East's top-flight four also rolled with NYU whipping Rutgers 82-56, Dartmouth defeating Rhode Island 74-65, St. Joseph's (Pa.) smacking Gettysburg 75-54 and Providence beating Brown 84-53.

Once-beaten Notre Dame defeated Northwestern 93-88 in double-over time on the Wildcats' court. Three baskets by John Tully did it for the Irish.

Texas Christian walloped winless Tulsa 99-77, an alltime high by a Tulsa foe and TCU's top total since scoring 101 against Abilene Christian four years ago.

Local Hunters Ready for Deer Season

Many local hunters are expected to head for the fields and woods today for the opening of a three-day deer season in Ohio.

The white tails may be taken with a shotgun today, Friday and Saturday. Bow and arrow season on deer has been open since October 15 and will end December 31.

Hunters are reminded that regulations limit deer hunting from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. for the three days. The same hours are in force for bow and arrow hunters for the three-day period.

Very little deer hunting is expected in Pickaway County. Most area hunters will head for hilly, wooded spots in southeastern Ohio.

* * *

POSSESSION limit is one. Only shotguns will be permitted.

Hunters fortunate enough to bag a deer are reminded to cut the white tail at the shoulders or leave the head on the hide if they plan to have the front portion of the animal mounted.

Taxidermist Dick Redman said a deer can be mounted with practically no loss or waste of meat.

Local Cage Loop Rests for Holidays

The Circleville Independent Basketball League will take a rest until after the Christmas Holidays, according to Loop Manager Marvin Spangler.

Action will resume January 7 at the Fairgrounds Coliseum. Spangler said he will have a new schedule completed within the next few days.

Veterans of Foreign Wars captured first round honors with an undefeated slate. River Oil of Chillicothe, losing one game to VFW, ended second.

Liston Hands TKO To Besmanoff

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sonny Liston, who wants a shot at the heavyweight title, isn't too satisfied with his decisive defeat of Willi Besmanoff Wednesday night.

"I wasn't too sharp," he said in his dressing room after the nationally televised (ABC) fight. It was his 19th straight victory.

"I didn't start to warm up until the sixth," added Liston, third-ranked heavyweight contender.

Besmanoff absorbed a barrage of punches in the sixth and was bleeding from several bad gashes over his eyes. The referee stopped the bout between rounds and it was scored a seventh-round technical knockout.

Prep Starts For Sebring's Grand Prix

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) —Practice begins today for the Grand Prix of the United States, Saturday's road race that will decide the driving championship of the world. It is one of the most coveted of all sports titles.

Jack Brabham of Australia and two Englishmen — Stirling Moss and Tony Brooks — are in the running for the big crown in this ninth and last grand prix race of the 1959 season. The battle for the title has been the closest ever.

It will be Brabham and Brooks' first look at the course, but Moss has driven here several times in the annual 12-hour sports car endurance races.

Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif., who ranks fourth in the world standings and has a chance to move up to second by winning here Saturday, also knows every foot of the 502-mile Sebring course.

Grand prix cars are different than sports cars. They're stripped down, single seat machines built primarily for speed and road holding. Generally, they are faster than sports cars.

Kingtson Tops Centralia

Kingston edged Centralia yesterday in a low scoring junior high game, 20-15. The contest was played on the Bulldog court.

The Redskins took a 14-2 first half lead, before falling in the second half. Centralia rallied, outscoring the Redskins, 13-6, in the final two periods.

Kingston was held scoreless in the last quarter and Centralia was held pointless in the second stanza. Gail Nichols led the scoring with eight points for Kingston.

Bulldog scoring was divided between Haynes and Payne with four points apiece. The Redskins are now 5-1 on the season, while Centralia fell to a 3-3 slate.

The Redskins host Pickaway Monday afternoon and Chillicothe St. Peters on Wednesday afternoon.

Kingston — Nichols 4-0-8; Streitenberger 1-0-2; Kelley 2-0-4; DeLong 1-0-2; Davis 0-0-0; Vollmer 2-0-4; Totals 10-0-20.

Centralia — Schiff 1-1-3; Kelly 1-0-2; Haynes 2-0-4; Payne 2-0-4; Uhrig 1-0-2; Totals 7-1-15.

Score by Qtrs.	1	2	3	4	Total
Kingston	6	8	6	0	— 20
Centralia	2	0	6	7	— 15

Referees: Sigler and Smith.

The 1960 Raven National sailboat races will be held at Marblehead, Mass.

County Cage Warfare Rolls Into 2nd Action-Packed Week

Pickaway County League action swings into its second week of action tomorrow night with at least one team scheduled to drop from a five-way tie for first place.

League leader Ashville (4-0) and Saltcreek (1-3) meet on the Bronco court and only one squad can be victorious.

Other league games pit Atlanta (2-4) against Pickaway (1-3); Darby (2-2) versus Monroe (1-6); Walnut (2-1) to do battle with Jackson (2-3), and Williamsport (5-2) against Scioto (0-3).

The Broncos are favored to defeat Saltcreek, although the Warriors are upset minded after downing odds on favorite Williamsport last Friday, 53-49.

* * *

THE BRONCOS should offer stiffer competition in the form of a well-balanced squad of five scorers and a tremendous height advantage.

Atlanta may have a nod to topple the Pirates on the Pickaway floor. The Red Raiders pin their hopes on the pivot play of Ronnie Morris (24.5) and the rebounding of Morris and Tommy Oyer (13.2).

Monroe hosts the Trojans who are potent behind the deadly scoring of Tommy Walters (22.8) and Tommy Liff (21.8). Darby is having trouble with its front line of bankboard men, but Liff and Walters more than make up for this handicap.

Walnut travels to Jackson where it will dress as the favorites. The Tigers' Tom Harber (20) has developed into an excellent center, and is ably backed by the experienced play of Gary Hoover, (9.7) Boyd Boone (9) and Lloyd Davidson (9).

The final county league contest pits Williamsport at Scioto. The Deers are favored to surge back into the win column after absorbing an upset loss at Saltcreek.

David Myers, (27.9) held to his lowest point total of the early season at Satterup, 19 points, will be tough for a rebuilding Buffalo unit to handle.

* * *

AREA GAMES find Centralia, (4-2) invading Chillicothe Central Catholic; Buckskin at Kingston (4-2), and Stoutsville (4-0) being hosted by Amanda.

The Bulldogs' height disadvantage will tell the tale at Central Catholic where the parochial school has a talented squad of tall veterans.

Kingston should have no trouble in downing Buckskin for its fifth win. The Redskins big three of David Nogle, Bill Chaffin and Bill Carmean whose combined scoring, rebounding and expert ball handling make for a power-laden Kingston team.

Stoutsville lays its undefeated mark on the line when it invades arch rival Amanda. Action always develops whenever these two schools meet. It is a Fairfield County League tilt. The Indians should win.

High Court OKs Redleg Park Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The proposed 2,600-car parking lot at Crosley Field in Cincinnati cleared another hurdle Wednesday as the Ohio Supreme Court unanimously dismissed an appeal which sought to prevent appropriation of the land.

The Superior Laundry & Towel Supply Co. and other property owners near the home of the Cincinnati Redlegs had appealed to the high court on grounds that condemnation would mean use of public funds for private purposes.

The high court verdict upheld Hamilton County court decisions in the case.

Cincinnati approved a two-million-dollar bond issue to acquire the land. County commissioners agreed to spend another million.

Drake's Take 71-37 Verdict To Lead New Holland League

Drake's Purofax Gas protected its lead in the New Holland Independent cage league with a 71-37 victory over Jeffersonville last night.

In two other games, Kaufman's Bargain Store of Washington C. H. trimmed Jeffersonville, 70-50, and Morrison's Carry-out of Circleville edged Williamsport, 72-65.

Morrison's and Kaufman's are tied for second place in the league.

Drake's win was paced by Dick Hagidorn and Don Vincent with 19 and 18 points respectively. Drake's pulled away in the second half by controlling the boards and utilizing a tight zone defense. Bill Herman with 12 points was high for Jeffersonville.

* * *

DICK ENGLISH hit for 20 points for Kaufman's. He was aided by Bob Alkire's 19, Roger Whitley's 13 and Jim McWilliam's 10.

Kaufman's grabbed an early lead and lengthened it the rest of the game. Glen Large was high for Kirk's with 17 markers.

Morrison's rolled behind the 22 points of Jerry Collins and 19 by Ray Riencheld. Bob Picklesimer hit 17 for Williamsport, followed by 12 each for Bob Metzger and Ronnie James.

Morrison's grabbed an early lead of 15 points, then had to hang on for the decision. Both teams finished with only four men due to personal fouls.

Three more games Wednesday lists Kirk's vs Williamsport, Morrison's vs Drake's and Jeffersonville vs. Kaufman's.

Here are the standings:

	W	L
Drake's	3	0
Morrison's	2	1
Kaufman's	2	1
Williamsport	1	2
Kirk's	1	2
Jeffersonville	0	3

Drake's — RM Vincent 2-0-4; Krik 3-0-6; L. Vincent 3-0-6; D. Vincent 8-2-18; Hobble 2-0-6; T. Vincent 2-3-7; Welch 2-1-5; Hagidorn 8-3-19. Totals 31-9-71.

Foot Returned to Football On College Grid This Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The foot returned to college football on a pronounced scale during the past season.

Encouraged by the widened cross-bar (from 16 feet, 6 inches) to 23-4, the nation's major colleges made twice as many field goals as ever before. And the conversion kicking percentage was the highest of all-time.

Punting also was the best ever.

The National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, which delves into such matters, came up with these findings today.

On an individual scale, honors went to Karl Holzwarth of Wisconsin, who set a modern record by kicking seven field goals; Bob Khayat of Mississippi, who scored 40 points on placements; John Hadl of Kansas, who averaged 45.58 yards on 43 punts, and Gary Dunn, who led Brigham Young to the team punting crown.

All but 14 of the 110 major teams tried one or more field goals for a total of 380 attempts. Eighty-two colleges contributed to the record 192 field goals kicked.

Field goals proved the decisive factor in 23 games, with three of these by a single man, Nick Patella of Wake Forest, whose boots beat Florida State, Maryland and North Carolina State.

Holzwarth's seven field goals in eight attempts beat the record of six shared by Ken Cook of San Jose State (1939), Bob Hainlen of Colorado State (1948) and Paige Cothren of Mississippi (twice, 1955 and 1956).

Vince Scott, Maryland end, kicked three in one game, the opener against West Virginia. The longest was a 53-yarder by Roger McClure of Virginia against Virginia Military.

Four punters averaged 45 yards or better on 20 or more punts. Hadl's average of 45.58 barely beat Dainard Paulson of Oregon State, 45.56. Lamont Miller of Utah State, whose team plays Hawaii Friday, has 45.4 and Joe Zuger of Arizona State, 45.0.

Conerly Gains Aerial Lead

Unitas Is Passed In Passing Field

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — New York's Charlie Conerly has displaced Baltimore's Johnny Unitas as the National Football League's top passer, but Unitas has set a league record.

Conerly completed 14 of 21 passes of 271 yards against Cleveland Sunday as he led the Giants to their second straight Eastern Conference title.

With one game to go, the former Mississippi star has gained 1,499 yards on 98 completed passes in 171 attempts, an 8.77 average, league statistics showed today.

He thus jumped from third to first in the passing division relinquishing his old slot to Unitas, who has an 8.20 average on 180 completions in 340 attempts. He has gained 2,789 yards, the best in the league.

The Colts, however, scored three times Saturday on passes from their star quarterback, thus boosting Unitas' total to a record 29 touchdown passes.

The old NFL record of 28 for one season was held by Sid Luckman.

Jimmy Brown, of Cleveland, still holds a comfortable edge in the ground gaining department. The former Syracuse All-America has picked up 1,177 yards on 257 carries for a 4.6 average.

Baltimore's ace pass receiver, Ray Berry, is far ahead in his specialty. Berry has caught 63 passes for 936 yards and 12 touchdowns.

Teammate Lenny Moore is second with 44 completions for 815 yards. Tommy McDonald, of Philadelphia, jumped from sixth to third in the standings. The fleet Eagle has caught 43 for 786 yards and 10 touchdowns.

The kicking toe of New York's Pat Summerall has kept him in first place among the scorers with 84 points.

Ratings Show Wilt Can't Win Alone

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain still leads Boston's Bill Russell in their personal duel. But the standings show Boston with a four-game bulge over Philadelphia.

Chamberlain, obviously handicapped by an injured foot, outscored Russell 39-23 and out-rebounded the Boston ace 20-19 Wednesday night but the Celtics defeated the Warriors 137-116 in the second half of a double-header at Boston. Jack Twyman tallied 38 points in leading the Royals to a 129-119 triumph over Detroit in the first half of the twin bill. Syracuse moved within a game of Philadelphia by beating Minneapolis 93-89 at Seattle.

While Chamberlain was exceeding his average point production, the Celtics got another top performance from Bob Cousy, who ended up with 18 points but was topped by Frank Ramsey (29), Tommy Heinshon (20) and Russell.

Cincinnati took an early lead and held it all of the way except briefly in the second period. Gene Shue was high for Detroit with 26 points.

Rookie Dick Barnett dropped in 10 points in the last quarter as the Nationals pulled away from Minneapolis. Elgin Baylor had one of his poorer nights for the Lakers with only 17 points. Rookie Rudy Larusso topped the Lakers with 22.

Paul Brown's Crippled Crew Mends Slowly

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns' cripples are beginning to show improvement, and flanker Ray Renfro probably will be able to play against Philadelphia Sunday.

Renfro, who missed all of the 48-7 drubbing last week at the hands of New York, was running fairly well in Wednesday's practice, but not at top speed. He has a pulled thigh muscle.

Linebacker Walt Michaels, who has been playing despite an injured hand, was the only player who did not take part in the workout. Jim Ray Smith, offensive guard who has a bad ankle, and offensive tackle Mike McCormack, who has shoulder trouble, said they are suffering less pain.

Today the team works on defensive strategy, planning to put a stopper on Norm Van Brocklin's passing. Sunday's game, at best, can mean a second place tie with Philadelphia. At worst, the Browns could drop into fourth place in the Eastern Division.

Then the two teams met earlier at Cleveland, the Browns got to a 21-0 halftime lead and then sagged while Van Brocklin's passing began to click. In the final period, Bobby Mitchell broke loose for a long scoring run that locked up the victory.

Golembiewski Sets Pin Tourney Pace

CHICAGO (AP)—The World In-Bowling Tournament moved into the last half of the final rounds today with Billy Golembiewski, a 30-year-old pro, in the top spot.

Golembiewski, a member of the ABC champion Pfeiffers team of Detroit, was the big gun in Wednesday's firing in the $30,000 tourney in the Chicago Coliseum.

Sixteen more games are scheduled today and the final 16 on Friday, with part of the shooting to be nationally televised Friday night. (9 p.m. CST, NBC)

Ashville Bank Shows New Building to Public

The Ashville Bank will celebrate the opening of its new bank building with an Open House Saturday and Sunday.

The public is invited to visit the bank from 7 p. m. until 9 p. m. Saturday and from 1 p. m. till 5 p. m. Sunday. Bank officials expect more than 3,000 persons to take advantage of this opportunity to be conducted through the entire bank.

The Ashville Bank, formerly known as the Ashville Banking Co., was organized in June, 1906. The original incorporators, now deceased, were Samuel Hall, J. R. Van Meter, William M. Wright, James H. Valentine, F. J. Peters and Emanuel A. Snyder.

The bank was first opened for business on Aug. 23, 1906 in the D. H. Squire property, which is presently occupied by T. R. Acord.

* * *

THE BANK'S present site was purchased in 1912. A new building was erected in 1913. The increased activity rendered the building inadequate shortly after the Korean War.

Bank directors felt that more space was needed to provide their customers with better service. The bank moved to temporary quarters on February 1 of this year. Demolition on the old building and construction of the new building started immediately.

The building's contractor was the B. R. Lepper Construction Co., Columbus. The architectural firm was Taylor and Liebersbach, Columbus.

Sub-contractors included Kenneth Wilson, 724 S. Court St., heating, air conditioning and plumbing, and S&S Electric Co., Columbus, electrical.

The architecture of the building is early American with brick and Indiana limestone as its principal materials.

The building is fireproof and includes all modern features. A spacious lobby meets the eye upon entering the building.

* * *

THE LOBBY is lighted by candle chandeliers of early American design. The lobby is cherry wainscoated and the offices are cherry panelled and carpeted.

The bank provides a conference room for customers, book vault, inside fire escape, storage room, small kitchen, directors' room, lounges, plus stalls for safe deposit box holders.

The two-story bank building houses a drive-in window and the latest equipment designed for speed and customer convenience.

A 16-car parking lot is located in the rear of the building, with a rear entrance. A side-door allows entrance into the bank from the parking lot.

Bank manager is C. D. Kraft, cashier. He has 38 years banking experience, starting at the Third National Bank, 107 W. Main St., Circleville, in August, 1921.

He worked under Charles Shulze, Clark Will and M. E. Noggle, before entering the Ashville Bank in January, 1941.

* * *

ASSISTANT cashier is Mrs. Valerie C. White, a veteran of 17 years in the banking field. Mrs. Helen Cummins and Mrs. Louise Harris are tellers; Mrs. Shirley Cornelius and Mrs. Alice Marion, bookkeepers, and Miss Carol Cook, is secretary to Mrs. White and Kraft.

Other bank officers are L. E. Foreman, president, and Rexford Hall, vice president. Ashville Bank correspondent banks are the Third National, Huntington National Bank, Columbus, as well as Cleveland and Cincinnati accounts.

Bank directors are Martin Cromley, Foreman, Hall, Robert E. Hedges, Paul W. Teegardin, Mrs. Nellie Whitehead and Ralph Fisher. All are farmers except Dr. Hedges, who is an optometrist at 211 S. Scioto St.

Refreshments will be served at the open house with directors' wives acting as hostesses. Souvenirs also will be available.

The commercial classes of Jackson, Scioto, Ashville and Walnut High Schools will be conducted through the bank tomorrow.

The bank is open Tuesday through Saturday from 9 a. m. until 2:30 p. m. It has more than 1,600 customers.

THE ASHVILLE BANK — Pictured above is a front view of the new Ashville Bank building. The two-story building is of early American architecture wi h furniture to match. It will hold an Open House Saturday and Sunday. The modern bank has a drive-in window and a parking lot in the rear.
